Alden's cyclopedia of universal literature John B Alden, 1890      The Pace of Fiction Brian Gingrich, 2021-07-15 The Pace of Fiction redefines the literary history of the novel by analyzing its most elaborate feature its pace It moves from the rise of the novel to realism and modernism It starts by tracing the evolution of two narrative units scenes shown slowly and summaries told swiftly These units emerge from the conflict of epic and drama gain shape in the commentaries of Fielding and Goethe and become dynamically opposed in nineteenth century realism In Middlemarch they rotate in regular sequence summaries move swiftly until scenes slow them down scenes play out dramatically until summaries sweep them forward their movement imitates the conflict of fate and free will Over the course of the nineteenth century however scenic impulses overtake summary storytelling The reader sees the tendency already in Austen's dialogues Hawthorne's tableaux or Balzac's battering drama and finds it in Jane Eyre's placement of summaries in private scenes When Flaubert extends scenic vividness to all of his summaries and when Henry James subordinates his summaries to scenic consciousness the extreme pressure of scene upon summary brings the opposition of realist pacing to collapse But other oppositions arise in the modernisms that follow In the alternation of stasis and kinesis of drifting thoughts and everyday actions of stories and acts of storytelling in Proust Joyce Woolf Mann Hemingway pace gathers and creates meaning in new ways      The Ridpath Library of Universal Literature John Clark Ridpath, 1903      Alden's Cyclopedia of Universal Literature, 1890      Obumselu on African Literature Isidore Diala, 2019-02-13 This compendium brings together in one volume for the first time Obumselu's highly celebrated work on African literature With the dialectic of cultures as the presiding preoccupation of his work and appraising the place of African literature in the universal scheme of cultural interchange his critical speciality Obumselu espoused a scholarship with a necessarily indispensable comparative dimension as the articles anthologised in this volume as African literature reveal The expertise with which he explores the oeuvres of many Western writers because of the light they shed on the creative endeavours of African writers is offset only by the rigour with which he explores the transformative impact of indigenous African literature on the craft of many distinguished African writers Obumselu's discovery of a tradition of the African novel almost entirely rooted in the poetics of African folklore which began with Mofolo and Plaatje and blossomed in Camara Laye and Ben Okri is a highlight of his incisive scholarship and reverberates through many of the works here The originality of his insights his analytic rigour the catholicity of his tastes and competences and the power and grace of his expression make this volume compelling      Law and Literature Richard A.
