Studies In Jewish Thought:

Studies in Jewish Thought David Solomon Shapiro, 1975      Studies in Jewish Thought Simon Rawidowicz, 1974
Studies in Jewish Thought Simon Rawidowicz, 1974      Judaism in Contemporary Thought Agata Bielik-Robson, Adam Lipszyc, 2014-04-03 The central aim of this collection is to trace the presence of Jewish tradition in contemporary philosophy. This presence is on the one hand undeniable, manifesting itself in manifold allusions and influences; on the other hand, difficult to define, rarely referring to openly revealed Judaic sources. Following the recent tradition of Levinas and Derrida, this book tentatively refers to this mode of presence in terms of traces of Judaism, and the contributors grapple with the following questions: What are these traces, and how can we track them down? Is there such a thing as Jewish difference that truly makes a difference in philosophy? And if so, how can we define it? The additional working hypothesis, accepted by some and challenged by other contributors, is that Jewish thought draws explicitly or implicitly on three main concepts of Jewish theology: creation, revelation, and redemption. If this is the case, then the specificity of the Jewish contribution to modern philosophy and the theoretical humanities should be found in sometimes open, sometimes hidden fidelity to these three categories. Offering a new understanding of the relationship between philosophy and theology, this book is an important contribution to the fields of Theology, Philosophy, and Jewish Studies.      Amsterdam studies in Jewish thought, 1996      Jewish Philosophy for the Twenty-First Century Hava Tirosh-Samuelson, Aaron W. Hughes, 2014-08-21 Jewish Philosophy for the Twenty First Century encourages contemporary Jewish thinkers to reflect on the meaning of Judaism in the modern world by connecting these reflections to their own personal biographies. In so doing, it reveals the complexity of Jewish thought in the present moment. The contributors reflect on a range of political, social, ethical, and educational challenges that face Jews and Judaism today and chart a path for the future. The results showcase how Jewish philosophy encompasses the methodologies and concerns of other fields such as political theory, intellectual history, theology, religious studies, anthropology, education, comparative literature, and cultural studies. By presenting how Jewish thinkers address contemporary challenges of Jewish existence, the volume makes a valuable contribution to the humanities as a whole, especially at a time when the humanities are increasingly under duress for being irrelevant.      Studies in Jewish Thought Alfred Jospe, 1981      Be-Ron Yahad Ariel Evan Mayse, Avraham Yizhak Green, Arthur Green, 2019 The essays of the present volume, honoring Rabbi Professor Nehemia Polen, seek to give readers a richer sense of the fabric of Jewish interpretation and theology from the history of Jewish mysticism, the promise and perils of exegesis, and the contemporary relevance of premodern and early modern texts.      Studies in Jewish Thought Joseph Dan, 1989      Frontiers of Jewish Thought Steven T. Katz, 1992 This volume chronicles the main issues that have become central to the Jewish agenda during the past 30 years and focuses needed attention on more recent concerns such as the State of Israel, worldwide Jewish demographic trends, anti-Semitism, and assimilation, as well as feminism, nuclear war, and AIDS, that promise to be consequential throughout the 1990s and beyond.      Judaism, Philosophy, Culture

Representing Jewish Thought Agata Paluch, 2021-01-18 Representing Jewish Thought originated in the conference convened in honour of Professor Ada Rapoport Albert on the theme of visual representations of Jewish thought from antiquity to the early modern period The volume encompasses essays on various modes and media of transmitting and re presenting thought pertinent to Jewish past and present It explores several approaches to the study of the transmission of ideas in historical sources zooming in on textual and visual hermeneutics to material and textual culture to performative arts The volume has brought together scholars from different subfields of Jewish Studies covering thousands of years of Jewish history who invite further scholarly reflection on the expression transmission and organisation of knowledge in Jewish contexts
