Studies in Shakespeare Homer Baxter Sprague, 1916      Shakespeare's cinema of love R. S. White, 2016-10-03 This engaging and stimulating book argues that Shakespeare's plays significantly influenced movie genres in the twentieth century particularly in films concerning love in the classic Hollywood period Shakespeare's green world has a close functional equivalent in tinseltown and on the silver screen as well as in hybrid genres in Bollywood cinema Meanwhile Romeo and Juliet continues to be an enduring source for romantic tragedy on screen The nature of generic indebtedness has not gained recognition because it is elusive and not always easy to recognise The book traces generic links between Shakespeare's comedies of love and screen genres such as romantic comedy screwball comedy and musicals as well as clarifying the use of common conventions defining the genres such as mistaken identity errors disguise and shrew taming Speculative challenging and entertaining the book will appeal to those interested in Shakespeare movies and the representation of love in narratives      The First Four Books of Xenophon's Anabasis Xenophon, 1877

Shakespeare's 'Lady Editors' Molly G. Yarn, 2021-12-09 The basic history of the Shakespearean editorial tradition is familiar and well established For nearly three centuries men most of them white and financially privileged ensconced themselves in private and hard to access libraries hammering out their versions of Shakespeare's text They produced enormous learned tomes monuments to their author's greatness and their own reputations What if this is not the whole story A bold revisionist and alternative version of Shakespearean editorial history this book recovers the lives and labours of almost seventy women editors It challenges the received wisdom that when it came to Shakespeare the editorial profession was entirely male dominated until the late twentieth century In doing so it demonstrates that taking these women's work seriously can transform our understanding of the history of editing of the nature of editing as an enterprise and of how we read Shakespeare in history      The Fourth Music Reader Julius Eichberg, 1880      Studies in Shakespeare: First Series (Classic Reprint) Homer Baxter Sprague, 2018-04-25 Excerpt from Studies in Shakespeare First Series Far from the sun and summer gale In thy green lap was Nature's darling laid What time where lucid Avon strayed To him the mighty mother did unveil Her awful face The dauntless child Stretched forth his little arms and smiled This pencil take she said whose colors clear Richly paint the vernal year Thine too these golden keys immortal Boy This can unlock the gates of joy Of horror that and thrilling fears Or open the sacred source of sympathetic tears About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works      The Journal of Education
