Allott,University of London. School of Oriental and African Studies. Restatement of African Law Project, An Introduction to African Legal Philosophy John Murungi,2013-04-11 A book on legal philosophy necessarily focuses attention on law In addition to this focus An Introduction to an African Legal Philosophy focuses attention on philosophy The link between law and philosophy is brought into relief which is done through an African context An attempt is made to spell out what is African about legal philosophy without being cut off of African legal philosophy from non African legal philosophy The book draws attention to the view that a basic component of African legal philosophy consists of an investigation of what it is to be an African and because an African is a human being among other human beings the investigation is about what it is to be a human being Ubuntuism is an African derived word that captures this mode of being human Moreover because human beings are cultural beings African cultural context guides the investigation Inescapably it is claimed that every legal philosophy is embedded in a culture African legal philosophy is not an exception It is deeply rooted in African culture a culture that is today shaped in part by a European colonialist culture One feature that will strike one as one reads the book is that the book approaches African legal philosophy as a means of decolonization of African culture African legal philosophy can accomplish this intelligently and effectively if it is itself decolonized In doing this it contrasts sharply with mainstream Western legal philosophy Ideas and Procedures in African Customary Law Max Gluckman,2018-09-03 The 18 papers in this volume originally published in 1969 in English and French with summaries in the other language define and analyze in their wider social contexts the fundamental ideas and procedures to be found in African traditional systems of law They assess the needs and problems of adaptation to changing conditions The comprehensive introduction by Allott Epstein and Gluckman provides a framework of analysis It deals with the search for a common terminology in which to analyse and compare the different systems of customary law proceedings and evidence codification and recording reason and the occult the conception of legal personality succession and inheritance land rights marriage and affiliation injuries liability and responsibility African Legal Studies. Columbia University.
