Studies In Early Mysticism In The Near Middle Ea:

Studies in Early Mysticism in the Near and Middle East Margaret Smith,1995-04-27 This is an exploration of the relationship between the rise and development of a mystical element in Islam known as Sufism and the mysticism that was already to be found within the Christian Church of the Near and Middle East at the time when Arab power was establishing itself and the faith of Islam was in the process of formulation and development In this earliest period of Islamic mysticism the contacts between Christianity and Islam were at their closest The book presents the mystics teachings and allows their own writings to speak for them to celebrate the shared devotion and inspiration of these two great religious traditions Studies in early mysticism in the Near and Middle East Margaret Smith,1931

Focused on Shi'ism and Sufism in the formative period of Islam this book examines the development of the concept of walāya a complex term that has over time acquired a wide range of relationships with other theological ideas chiefly in relation to the notion of authority The book offers a textual and comparative analysis of walāya based on primary sources in the ninth and tenth centuries from both Shi'i and Sufi circles The starting point is one of the oldest surviving Shi'i sources Kitāb Sulaym Alongside this the author analyses al-Faḥr al-Shādhī al-Nishāpūrī Kitāb al-Maṣnūʿ al-Barq and Kitāb al-Kaḥf al-Kulayn Three major texts in Sufism are considered Kitāb al-Idq by Abū Saʿd al-Kharrāz Tafsīr al-Qurʾān al-Ahmī by Saḥl al-Tustar and Al-Tirmidhī's Kitāb al-Sirāt al-Awliyy Together these sources highlight the doctrinal aspects of walāya exploring the identity function appointment and description of those considered walī The author ultimately argues that walāya is a cluster of rich deep rooted responses to the question of authority developed within both Shi'ism and Sufism after the death of the Prophet The book is much needed reading for students and scholars interested in Shi'i and Sufi studies and Islamic philosophy Studies in Early Mysticism in the Near and Middle East, Etc Margaret Smith,1931

Islamic Mysticism and Abū Ṭālib Al-Makkī Saeko Yazaki,2013 Both in everyday language and religious metaphor the heart often embodies the true self and is considered to be the seat of emotion in many cultures Many Muslim thinkers have attempted to clarify the nature of Sufism using its metaphorical image particularly in the tenth and eleventh centuries This book examines the work of Abū Ṭālib al-Makkī and his wider significance within the Sufi tradition with a focus on the role of the heart Analysing his most significant work Qūt al-qul

b The Nourishment of Hearts the author goes beyond an examination of the themes of the book to explore its influence not only in the writing of Sufis but also of Hanbal and Jewish scholars Providing a comprehensive overview of the world of al Makk and presenting extracts from his book on religious characteristics of the heart with selected passages in translation for the first time in English this book will give readers a better understanding not only of the essential features of Sufism but also the nature of mysticism and its relation to monotheistic faiths Studies in Early Mysticism in the Near and Middle East ,1973 Studies in Early Mysticism in the Near and Middle East; Being an Account of the Rise and Development of Early Christian Mysticism in the Near and Middle East Up to the Seventh Century ... Margaret Smith (M.A., Ph.D.),1931 Mystical Dimensions of Islam Annemarie Schimmel,2011 Thirty five years after its original publication Mystical Dimensions of Islam still stands as the most valuable introduction to Sufism the main form of Islamic mysticism This edition brings to a new generation of readers Annemarie Schimmel s his Studies in Early Mysticism in the Near and Middle East Margaret Smith,1931 Studies in Early Mysticism in the Near and Middle East...
