Donald D. Hester,James Tobin,1967 Financial Education and the Influence on Investment Behavior Digital World,2024-09-06 Hello everyone I m excited to introduce you to the fascinating world of financial psychology In this series we ll explore how our emotions beliefs and behaviors influence our financial decisions We ll see how this understanding can transform our relationship with money and help us achieve our goals Financial psychology studies the relationship between the human mind and money It explores how psychological factors such as emotions perceptions and beliefs influence our financial decisions It combines concepts from psychology and economics to understand financial behavior Financial psychology isn t just about numbers and graphs It helps us understand why we sometimes make financial decisions that don t make rational sense By understanding the psychological mechanisms behind our decisions we can make more informed decisions that align with our goals Emotions such as fear greed and anxiety significantly influence our financial decisions Fear of losing money can lead to conservative decisions while greed can lead to excessive risk taking Hope for a better future can motivate us to save but it can also lead us to invest in high risk assets Emotions are like an internal GPS that guides us in our financial decisions However they can lead us down a wrong path if not managed properly By identifying and understanding our emotions we can make more rational decisions that are aligned with our long term goals Cognitive biases are mental shortcuts we use to make decisions faster but they can lead us to make mistakes Examples of biases include loss aversion confirmation bias and herd behavior How to identify and overcome these biases to make sounder financial decisions Our brains are incredible machines but they are also prone to making mistakes Cognitive biases are like optical illusions that distort our perception of reality By being aware of these biases we can take steps to counteract their effects and make more rational decisions Our financial habits are shaped by our experiences and beliefs The importance of developing healthy financial habits such as saving investing and planning for the future How to create new habits and break old financial habits Our financial habits are like paths we follow on autopilot If we want to change our financial results we need to change our paths By developing new positive financial habits we can transform our financial lives Financial psychology offers us a new perspective on money Instead of seeing money as an end in itself we can see it as a means to achieve our goals and live a more fulfilling life

The Performance of International Portfolios Charles P. Thomas,Francis E. Warnock,2004 We evaluate the performance of U S investors international portfolios over a 25 year period Portfolio returns are formed by first estimating monthly bilateral holdings in 44 countries using high quality but infrequent benchmark surveys that enable us to eliminate the geographical bias in reported capital flows data In their foreign equity portfolios U S investors achieved a significantly higher Sharpe ratio than global benchmarks especially since 1990 We uncover three potential reasons for this success First they abstained from returns chasing behavior and instead sold past winners Second conditional performance tests provide no evidence that the superior unconditional performance owed to private information suggesting that the successful exploitation of publicly available information played a role Third well documented preferences for cross listed and well governed foreign firms appear to have served U S investors well We also evaluate the unconditional performance of bond portfolios about which less information is available and find that U S investors achieved higher Sharpe ratios than global benchmarks although the difference here is not statistically significant Federal Reserve Board web site
