Haroon Akram-Lodhi, Saturnino M. Borras Jr., Cristóbal Kay, 2007-01-24 Here internationally renowned scholars explore the structural causes of rural poverty income inequality and the processes of social exclusion and political subordination across Africa Asia and Latin America The Political Economy of Rural Livelihoods in Transition Economies Max Spoor, 2009 These chapters reflect the striking differences between transition countries in their processes of rural reform and development of rural poverty Agrarian structures and agrarian reform S.I. Cohen, 2012-12-06 This study is an attempt to contribute to our understanding of one of the most important reforms currently advocated by development economists to reduce rural poverty in developing countries land reform Dr Cohen has based his study on models in which three social groups are acting these for brevity's sake are called land lords peasants and the groups who comprise the non agricultural sector Peasants include the so called landless peasants which western countries generally term agrarian workers The method can be extended to larger numbers of groups The actors are involved in various activities including production consumption and saving the latter being available either for physical or for financial investment This implies that various wealth components appear in the model alongside flows of goods and services Use is made of determinate models with linear and non linear equations of a dynamic character The models are employed to estimate socio economic development under alternative regimes Regimes differ on the one hand according to which group is in power and on the other hand according to the instruments of economic policy they use It is an attractive feature of Dr Cohen's study that the models are applied to two countries for which all the necessary statistical material has been estimated India and Chile For both countries a brief socio political sketch precedes the numerical application of the models For India five instruments of socio economic policy are considered land transfers measures to stimulate productivity credit policies taxes and tenure and wage regulations The Crisis of Rural Poverty and Hunger Mohamad Riad El Ghonemy, 2007 No further information has been provided for this title Land Concentration and Rural Poverty Keith B. Anti-Poverty Land Reform Issues Never Die M. Riad El-Ghonemy, 2009-12-16 What can we do to unlock the unrealised potential of the hundreds of millions of rural poor and landless workers The ever topical central theme in this collection of essays is the mixed role of government and the institutionally regulated market in tackling rural poverty and land distribution inequality Drawing on over half a century of M Riad El Ghonemy's academic and field experience in developing countries across Africa Latin America the Middle East and South East Asia this is a comprehensive record of the late twentieth century study of and struggle against rural inequality seen through the eyes of one of its foremost observers Containing a balance of in depth field studies and El Ghonemy's personal observations from 1952 onwards this volume provides the basis for discussion and debate on a range of developmental issues Foremost among these is the appropriate approach both to explain the factors underlying developing countries rural backwardness and to enable them to achieve the Millennium Development Goal of halving the incidence of poverty and hunger by 2015 The compelling argument made here is that redistributive land reform combined with non farm intensive employment opportunities and investment in education within rural areas are necessary to tackle persistent poverty effectively Anti Poverty Land Reform Issues Never Die is essential reading for undergraduate and postgraduate students learning rural development and institutional and development economics M Riad El Ghonemy is Senior Research Associate at the Department of International Development University of Oxford and Research Fellow at the Department of Economics the American University in Cairo and Emeritus Professor Ein Shams University Cairo He is the author of several publications including The Political Economy of Rural Poverty Routledge 1990

The Political Economy of Rural Poverty Mohamad Riad El Ghonemy, 1990 With the use of wide ranging case studies the author clearly illustrates the impact of schemes intended to re allocate land in developing countries Concluding that land reform can play a major part in stimulating rural economies this book explores the extent to which such policies can successfully reduce poverty and increase agricultural growth

Agrarian Systems and the Alleviation of Rural Poverty in Iraq Abdul Sahib Alwan, 1985

Market-Led Agrarian Reform Saturnino Borrás Jr., Cristóbal Kay, Edward Lahiff, 2013-09-13 Three fourths of the world's poor are rural poor Most of the rural poor remain dependent on land based livelihoods for their incomes and reproduction despite significant livelihood diversification in recent years Land issue remains critical to any development discourse today Market led agrarian reform MLAR has gained prominence since the early 1990s as an alternative to state led land reforms This neoliberal policy is based on the inversion of what its proponents see as the features of earlier approaches and calls for redistribution via privatized decentralized transactions between willing sellers and willing buyers Its proponents especially those associated with the World Bank have claimed success where the policy has been implemented but such claims have been contested by independent scholars as well as by peasant movements who are struggling to gain access to land This book presents three thematic papers and six country studies The thematic papers address issues of formalisation of property rights gendered land rights and neoliberal enclosure These studies demonstrate the pervasive influence of neoliberal ideas on property rights and rural development debates well beyond the core question of land redistribution The country cases bring together experiences from Brazil Guatemala El Salvador Philippines South Africa and Egypt Common findings include the success of landowners in minimising the impact of reform and a lack of post transfer support translating into marginal impact on poverty The limitations of the market led approach and the implications of the studies presented here for the future of agrarian reform are considered in the editors introduction This book was a special issue of The Third World Quarterly Handbook of Agricultural Economics Robert E. Evenson, Prabhu Pingali, 2009-10-20 Advances in agriculture offer many countries the best and only chance of reducing poverty Yet economic growth and population increases are driving higher demand for food and rising real prices What solutions have successfully promoted agriculture This volume examines national and international food agriculture policies and how they enhance agricultural productivity growth It provides unique historical reviews on policies and their effects and it clearly articulates both positive and negative lessons for promoting agriculture lead growth With chapters written by international authorities this book recognizes that agriculture is not just about providing food for today but about growing it in an environmentally sustainable way that can help people work their ways out of poverty Chapters cover international macro economic policies and trade farm structure in developing countries regional experiences in agriculture and regional studies on agricultural productivity policies Competing Views and Strategies on Agrarian Reform: International perspective Saturnino M. Borras, 2008 After two decades of implementation the Comprehensive Agrarian Program continues to be the object of political controversy in the Philippines Volume 1 Competing Views and Strategies on Agrarian Reform International Perspective aims to broaden the discussion by focusing on international political policy and theoretical debates as well as on some empirical cases from different countries that are relevant to the study of agrarian issues in the Philippines Volume 2 Competing Views and Strategies on Agrarian Reform Philippine Perspective aims to deepen the discussion by focusing on the Philippine agrarian reform experience but drawing lessons that are relevant to theory building and to policy discourse and political actions in situations elsewhere The overarching theme of the twin books is critical thinking conventional assumptions are interrogated popular propositions critically examined and new ways of questioning proposed Globalization and Policy Challenges for Economies in Transition Rob Vos, Malinka Koparanova, 2011-01-01 The countries in Central and Eastern Europe and the Commonwealth of Independent States have opened up their economies to the world economy as a step towards a profound transformation from plan to market Some have fully integrated into the European market while others have not This book focuses on the challenges economies face when in transition Agrarian Reform in Contemporary Developing Countries Ajit Kumar Ghose, 2010-11-29 Initially published in 1983 in association with the International Labour Organisation ILO this book is about the meaning relevance and process of agrarian reform in contemporary developing countries It includes seven detailed case studies one each on Ethiopia Peru Chile Nicaragua Iran Kerala India and West Bengal India In all the cases serious contemporary efforts were made to implement agrarian reform programmes and the case studies focus upon selected aspects of this reform process origins basic characteristics problems of implementation and immediate consequences Each region differs considerably in terms of socio economic and administrative conditions but when the reform efforts are placed in their respective historical contexts several common themes emerge which are dealt with in detail In all cases it is clear that agrarian reform is essentially a political process requiring major social movements and that piecemeal reforms will not solve the grave problems of growth distribution and poverty in the Third World Studies in Agrarian Reforms and Rural Poverty M. R. Ghonemy, 1984 The Political Economy of Rural Poverty M. Riad El-Ghonemy, 2006-05-10 With the use of wide ranging case studies the author clearly illustrates the impact of schemes intended to re allocate land in developing countries Concluding that land reform can play a major part in stimulating rural economies this book explores the extent to which such policies can successfully reduce poverty and increase agricultural growth
