Handbook of Research on Coping Mechanisms for First-Year Students Transitioning to Higher Education Aloka, Peter, Mukuna, Kananga Robert, 2023-02-20 Transitioning from secondary to higher education is not a natural step for many first year students in higher education institutions. There is a considerable difference between being a student at school and university and previous research has highlighted the difficulties faced by first year university students during their transition phase. Higher education institutions and their departments acknowledge the challenges faced by new students and they differ in their approach to coping with the issue. Each seeks to find the most effective solution for its students. To reduce the withdrawal rate during the first year of college, higher education providers are expected to apply transition programs to help students transition. The Handbook of Research on Coping Mechanisms for First Year Students Transitioning to Higher Education presents a comprehensive account of the dynamics in higher education institutions and culture shock for new students, and analyzes models and theories of adjustment of new students in higher education institutions. Covering key topics such as gender, institutional support and success factors, this reference work is ideal for administrators, higher education professionals, researchers, scholars, academicians, practitioners, instructors and students.

Successful School Change Claude Nestor Goldenberg, 2004 Drawing on 15 years of research and teaching in low-income schools, Claude Goldenberg provides a powerful model of school change. Illustrating the everyday dynamics experienced by teachers, administrators and students, the text focuses on successful reform efforts in an elementary school in the metropolitan Los Angeles area that serves a predominantly bilingual Latino population.

Handbook of School Counseling Hardin L.K. Coleman, Christine Yeh, 2011-04-06 The mission of this forty-eight chapter handbook is to provide a comprehensive reference source that integrates counseling theory, research and practice into one volume. It is designed to meet the needs of entry level practitioners from their initial placement in schools through their first three to five years of practice. It will also be of interest to experienced school counselors, counselor educators, school researchers and counseling representatives within state and local governments.

Jiayi Wang,2025-12-17 With internationalization high on the agenda of education providers worldwide the complex relationship between intercultural communication and the international student phenomenon deserves close study Being an international student is a great opportunity to be exposed to a new language and culture and to develop intercultural communication skills Traditionally the phrase international students refers to those who undertake all or part of their education in a country other than their own For present purposes though we adopt a broad definition of the phrase to include transnational education TNE students who are often regarded as international students by their awarding institutions The number of international students pursuing tertiary education reached 6 3 million in 2020 up from 2 million in 2000 and this number continues to grow UNESCO Institute of Statistics 2023 The recent decade has also seen a tremendous expansion of TNE especially during the COVID 19 pandemic both in terms of size and scale TNE is the delivery of education in a country other than the one in which the degree granting institution is based TNE takes many diverse forms including dual degrees joint institutes and international branch campuses to name but a few In many cases students can get a foreign degree without ever leaving their home country or region Research on international students is often scattered across different disciplines including communication education psychology and language and linguistics The field of intercultural communication a term often used interchangeably with cross cultural communication investigates how people from different cultural backgrounds communicate The combination of intercultural communication and international students is a broad and fascinating topic of research Extant research on the topic has mainly focused on the following areas international students perceptions of intercultural communication the difficulties faced by international students and the correlations between different variables e g intercultural communication competence and effectiveness intergroup anxiety intercultural sensitivity attitude towards other cultures meta stereotypes sensation seeking ethnocentrism empathy mindfulness and motivation to engage in intercultural communication These studies have offered valuable insights into the predictors of intercultural communication competence and effectiveness and the pathways for developing this competence and effectiveness However intercultural communication and international students is a complex topic that requires a multifaceted approach that transcends disciplinary boundaries Research on the topic is lagging behind the growth of student numbers and there are many gaps and underexplored areas For example TNE students have rarely been studied from an intercultural communication perspective and international students perceptions of intercultural communication are much less explored than those of faculty and home students Additionally while academic advising has been found to be vital to international student success academic advisers have reported a lack of institutional training on how to deal with international students The actual intercultural interactions of and with international students have rarely been studied in detail Against this background this Research Topic seeks to create interdisciplinary dialogue and cooperation exploring the gaps and underexamined areas of intercultural communication and international students Themes to be addressed include but are not limited to the following language and communication intercultural communication competence and effectiveness intercultural interaction international student experience transnational education TNE internationalization
