The Mitzvah Of Healing:

The Mitzvah of Healing Hara Person, 2003 In The Mitzvah of Healing readers are able to explore every facet of Jewish healing from historical perspectives to personal stories traditional texts to modern meditations and rituals In this valuable collection which originated with the women's affiliate of the Reform Movement numerous difficult questions are addressed concerning the healing of body mind and soul The thoughts prayers and experiences of Debbie Friedman Rabbi Nancy Flum Rabbi Simkha Weintraub Debbie Perlman and more contribute to this important collection of essays Individuals families and communities will be enriched inspired and assisted on their paths of healing with this indispensable resource and guidebook

Sha'arei Refuah Gates of Jewish Healing Wally Spiegler, 2006 Sha arei Refuah Gates of Jewish Healing is the first book of its kind to present the theory and practice of Jewish healing As more and more professional health care workers are finding their way into Jewish healing they recognize that the present standards are just not sufficient to enable true and lasting healing Therapists of every kind believe that a more clinical approach is needed to deal with the everyday chronic problems in addition to the life threatening illnesses from which many of us suffer We need a health system that includes spirituality in which we can participate to bring wholeness into our lives The purpose of this book is to provide readers with Jewish thoughts on healing together with practical tools to help overcome illness of every kind Jewish healing is entering a new phase which goes beyond the prevalent standard of bikkur cholim visiting the sick supporting families facing medical crises and comforting mourners Assia--Jewish Medical Ethics, 1997 Health Care as a Social Good David M.

Craig, 2014-07-23 Health Care as a Social Good argues that as escalating costs absorb a greater percentage of family income and government budgets only the implementation of religious values can help Americans create a more community based system which reflects the ideals of American democracy The Workers' Health Fund in Eretz Israel Shifra

Shvarts, 2002 The first study to research the history of the health funds established by Jewish laborers in Israel The history of Kupat Holim the health organization of workers in Israel began at the 2nd Convention of Jewish agricultural workers in Judea in December 1911 Due to the lack of health services within the economic means of the workers and the refusal of the farmer employers to extend health services to their employees the Jewish agricultural workers in Eretz Israel at that time a distant province of the far flung Ottoman empire decided to establish a workers health fund kupat holim in Hebrew In the years 1912 15 two funds similar to the ones in Judea were also established in the north and center of the country In the first years the health funds did not provide workers with medical assistance on their own Only in 1913 with the outbreak of the First World War were the health funds transformed from insuring organizations into ones that provided medical assistance services themselves With the establishment of the General Federation of Labor 1920 the health funds were amalgamated into a single organization the Federation's Kupat Holim 1921 The unification of Kupat Holim ultimately determined the organization's future transforming it from a small local temporary body with a few dozen members into a national entity and a key factor in health services in Israel to this day This volume seeks to describe the growth of Kupat Holim up to the point where it was transformed into a central health organization in Israel its relationship with its parent organization the General Federation of Labor and its rivalry with its competitor in the health field Hadassah its evolution from an organization solely for laborers to one open to all the efforts on the part of Kupat Holim during the British Mandate 1918 1948 to bring about legislation for a compulsory health insurance law and the formulation of the basic principle that underlie the work of Kupat Holim to this day the principle of national and social responsibility for the provision of equal health services to all Dr Shifra Shvarts is the head of the Health Systems Management Department of the Faculty of Health Sciences and School of Management at Ben Gurion University Health and Medicine in the Jewish Tradition David Michael Feldman, 1986 Gift of Rabbi W Gunther Plaut
