

The Moneta papers

Dorrie was an old and very special friend. Was she a new and very special enemy? She had made a promise and now she'd broken it. Or had she?

Only one thing was certain. Something was very wrong. Two couriers had been killed in convenient accidents—one in an Italian brothel, the other in a train on his way to Venice. So Jefferson Boone took on the job: deliver certain papers to the richest heiress in the world, and get her to sign them before she married her Italian lover. And before Boone finds out the dirty truth, he discovers that the canals of Venice, the tortuous turns of Formula One racing, and the ski slopes of the Italian Alps have one thing in common. Death.

Jefferson Boone is a different kind of agent. If you like a little culture with your killing, a hero who's literate as well as phallic, the Handyman's your man.

The other members of the Classics Club are equally as fascinating. Bunny Corcoran is a wealthy and spoiled young man who is always looking for a good time. Camilla Macaulay is a beautiful and intelligent young woman who is drawn to the power and danger of the Classics Club. The students are all deeply in love with Morrow, and they are willing to do anything to please him. Morrow is a complex and mysterious figure, and he seems to be manipulating the students for his own purposes. As the students become more involved with Morrow, they begin to commit increasingly dangerous acts. The Secret History is a brilliant and thrilling novel that will keep you speculating until the very end. The novel is a cautionary tale about the dangers of obsession and the power of evil.
