

Studies in Classic Australian Fiction

Marcus Clarke, Henry Lawson, William Lane, Joseph Furphy, Jack Lindsay, Christina Stead and Patrick White

by Michael Wilding

'Wilding's reputation in the field is second to none. Indeed, he is one of its most influential critics. This collection is stimulatingly polemical without being merely fashionable or tendentious. The originality and flexibility of critical approach probes from various angles the relations between literature and society, especially the often overlooked political dimensions, bringing into play the varying and often deviant aesthetics. Wilding, who is also an outstanding creative writer, is not one of those critics who neglect the role of the craft of writing, but rather sees it as crucial to what literature 'has to say' In the best traditions of the most challenging of Australian criticism, as that of A. A. Phillips, A. D. Hope and Jack Lindsay.' - Laurie Hergenhan

'A substantial, elegantly argued, highly individual contribution to literary history and criticism The writers discussed are contextualized in terms of the aesthetic and political ideologies prevailing, and conflicting, in their own times, not only in Australia but also in England, America and Europe The net cast by the collection as a whole is impressively and informatively wide. At the same time, the original, perceptive, detailed discussions of particular texts within each essay are equally impressive and informative.' - Brian Kiernan

Studies In Classic Australian Fiction:

Studies in Classic Australian Fiction Michael Wilding, 1997 Essays on Marcus Clarke Henry Lawson William Lane Joseph Furphy Jack Lindsay Christina Stead and Patrick White The Fin de Siècle Imagination in Australia, 1890-1914 Mark Hearn, 2022-07-14 This book explores the fin de siècle an era of powerful global movements and turbulent transition in Australia and beyond through a series of biographical microhistories From the first wave feminist Rose Summerfield and the working class radical John Dwyer to the indigenous rights advocate David Unaipon and the poet Christopher Brennan Hearn traces the transnational identities philosophies ideas and cultures that characterised this era Examining the struggles and aspirations of fin de siècle lives respect for the rights of women and indigenous peoples the injustices and hardship inflicted on working men and women and the ways in which they imagined a better world this book examines the transformation and renewal brought about by fin de siècle ideas It examines the distinctive characteristics of this great acceleration of economic technological and cultural forces that swept the globe at the turn of the 19th century both within an Australian context and on the world stage Asserting that the fin de siècle was significant for the making of modern Australia and demonstrating the impact Australian fin de siècle lives had on the transnational and global movements of the era Mark Hearn traces the turbulent nature of the fin de siècle imagination in Australia and its response to these dynamic forces Telling Stories, 2021-11-15 The present volume is a highly comprehensive assessment of the postcolonial short story since the thirty six contributions cover most geographical areas concerned Another important feature is that it deals not only with exclusive practitioners of the genre Mansfield Munro but also with well known novelists Achebe Armah Atwood Carey Rushdie so that stimulating comparisons are suggested between shorter and longer works by the same authors In addition the volume is of interest for the study of aspects of orality dialect dance rhythms circularity and trickster figure for instance and of the more or less conflictual relationships between the individual character or implied author and the community Furthermore the marginalized status of women emerges as another major theme both as regards the past for white women settlers or the present for urbanized characters primarily in Africa and India The reader will also have the rare pleasure of discovering Janice Kulik Keefer's Fox her version of what she calls in her commentary displaced autobiography or creative non fiction Lastly an extensive bibliography on the postcolonial short story opens up further possibilities for research The Magic Phrase Margaret Harris, 2000 This is the first volume of essays by various hands on the work of the great Australian novelist Christina Stead 1902-83 It provides an overview of Stead criticism including pioneering classic essays together with a selection from the burgeoning critical literature of the 1980s and 90s and several articles not previously published The Great War in Post-Memory Literature and Film Martin Löschnigg, Marzena Sokolowska-Paryz, 2014-10-14 The twenty seven original contributions to this volume investigate the ways in which the First World War has been commemorated and represented internationally in prose fiction drama film docudrama and comics from the 1960s until the present The volume

thus provides a comprehensive survey of the cultural memory of the war as reflected in various media across national cultures addressing the complex connections between the cultural post memory of the war and its mediation In four sections the essays investigate 1 the cultural legacy of the Great War including its mythology and iconography 2 the implications of different forms and media for representing the war 3 national memories foregrounding the differences in post memory representations and interpretations of the Great War and 4 representations of the Great War within larger temporal or spatial frameworks focusing specifically on the ideological dimensions of its remembrance in historical socio political gender oriented and post colonial contexts

Teaching Australian Literature Brenton Doecke, Larissa McLean Davies, Philip Mead, 2011 What role should Australian literature play in the school curriculum What principles should guide our selection of Australian texts To what extent should concepts of the nation and a national identity frame the study of Australian writing What do we imagine Australian literature to be How do English teachers go about engaging their students in reading Australian texts This volume brings together teachers teacher educators creative writers and literary scholars in a joint inquiry that takes a fresh look at what it means to teach Australian literature The immediate occasion for the publication of these essays is the implementation of The Australian Curriculum English which several contributors subject to critical scrutiny In doing so they question the way that literature teaching is currently being constructed by standards based reforms not only in Australia but elsewhere The essays assembled in this volume transcend the divisions that have sometimes marred debates about the place of Australian literature in the school curriculum They all recognise the complexity of what secondary English teachers do in their efforts to engage young people in a rich and meaningful curriculum They also highlight the need for both secondary and tertiary educators to cultivate an awareness of the cultural and intellectual traditions that mediate their professional practice and to encourage a critically responsive pedagogy
