Studies In Linguistic Motivation:

Studies in Linguistic Motivation Günter Radden, Klaus-Uwe Panther, 2004 How much of language is motivated Recently cognitive and functional linguists have proposed new solutions to this intriguing question The thirteen articles collected in this volume cover various aspects of motivation in grammar and in the lexicon The phenomena discussed in the contributions can be grouped into four types of motivation which along with other types are explicated in the introductory chapter ecological motivation i e motivation of a linguistic unit due to its place or ecological niche within a system genetic motivation i e motivation of present day linguistic behavior or structure due to historical factors experiential motivation i e motivation that is based on embodied experience and cognitive motivation i e motivation that is based on human knowledge and cognitive operations such as metonymy and metaphor The languages studied in some detail include Afrikaans Croatian Dutch English French German Hausa and Hungarian This volume makes a strong case for the pervasiveness of motivation in natural language It will be of interest to teachers researchers and students of linguistics especially of functional and cognitive linguistics Motivation in Language H. Cuyckens, 2003-01-01 Topics covered in this volume include extreme subjectification English tense and modals schemas and lexical blends valency and diathesis functions of the preposition kuom in Dholou and grammaticalization of postpositions in German The Palgrave Handbook of Motivation for Language Learning Martin Lamb, Kata Csizér, Alastair Henry, Stephen Ryan, 2020-01-11 This handbook offers an authoritative one stop reference work for the dynamic and expanding field of language learning motivation The 32 chapters have been specially commissioned from the field s most influential researchers and writers Together they present a compelling picture of the motivations people have for learning languages the diverse ways we can research motivation and the implications for promoting and sustaining learners motivation The first section outlines the main theoretical approaches to language learning motivation the next section presents ways in which motivation theory has been applied in practice the third section showcases examples of motivation research in particular contexts and with particular types of language learners and the final section describes the exciting directions that contemporary research is taking promising important new insights for academics and practitioners alike Teaching and Researching: Motivation Zoltán Dörnyei, Ema Ushioda, 2013-11-26 Cultivating motivation is crucial to a language learner s success and therefore crucial for the language teacher and researcher to understand This fully revised edition of a groundbreaking work reflects the dramatic changes the field of motivation research has undergone in recent years including the impact of language globalisation and various dynamic and relational research methodologies and offers ways in which this research can be put to practical use in the classroom and in research Key new features and material A brand new chapter on current socio dynamic and complex systems perspectives New approaches to motivating students based on the L2 Motivational Self System Illustrative summaries of qualitative and mixed methods studies Samples of new self related motivation measures Providing a clear and comprehensive theory driven account of motivation Teaching and Researching Motivation examines how theoretical insights can be used in everyday teaching practice and offers practical tips The final section provides a range of useful resources including relevant websites key reference works and tried and tested example questionnaires Written in an accessible style and illustrated with concrete examples it is an invaluable resource for teachers and researchers alike Motivational Dynamics in Language Learning Zoltán Dörnyei, Alastair Henry, Peter D. MacIntyre, 2014-10-01 This landmark volume offers a collection of conceptual papers and data based research studies that investigate the dynamics of language learning motivation from a complex dynamic systems perspective The chapters seek to answer the question of how we can understand motivation if we perceive it as a continuously changing and evolving entity rather than a fixed learner trait Language Learning Motivation Ema Ushioda, 2020-07-13 In this thought provoking book Ema Ushioda asks why we research language learning motivation whose interests the research serves and who ultimately benefits Examining the major theoretical and research developments in this vibrant field from its origins to the present day the author interrogates the goals and values driving academic inquiry and argues for a more socially conscious and socially responsive orientation to researching language learning motivation The book challenges this research field to contribute to critical movements in applied linguistics to address globally and locally relevant societal issues where language and motivation matter Ema Ushioda's compelling authoritative and timely book rewrites the story of L2 motivation research through the ethical lens Her probing reflection is not meant to soothe but to ask difficult questions about why we research and for whom It is impossible to imagine future L2 motivation scholarship that does not treat them seriously Maggie Kubanyiova Professor of Language Education University of Leeds Ema Ushioda is a Professor and Head of the Department of Applied Linguistics at the University of Warwick Oxford Applied Linguistics Series Advisers Anne Burns and Diane Larsen Freeman International Perspectives on Motivation E. Ushioda, 2013-04-23 Bringing together motivation related practical concerns and debates from diverse international contexts and educational settings where English is learned this book shows how locally produced insights and issues can have wider global significance resonating with the experiences and concerns of English teachers and learners across the world Studies in Figurative Thought and Language Angeliki Athanasiadou, 2017-04-26 This volume contains original research and innovative analyses that deepen our understanding of figurative thought and language The selected papers focus on the multifaceted aspect of figuration its function in thought and its impact on areas of grammar and communication Key topics explored include metaphor metonymy and their relationship to each other as well as the less studied figure of hyperbole and its relation to the fundamental figures of metaphor and metonymy Collectively the papers examine the pragmatic reasoning processes triggered by figurative thought the lexicogrammatical motivations and or constraints on figurative language the impact of deeply entrenched figurative thought on the lexicon of natural languages the cultural origins of figurative thought and the psycholinguistic motivations for figuration The comprehensive treatment of these issues is fundamental for future research on figurative thought and language particularly on questions of universality vs specificity of figuration the impact of figuration on constructions cross linguistic comparisons of figurative language and cognitive pragmatic approaches to figurative meaning

Motivation in Grammar and the Lexicon Klaus-Uwe Panther, Günter Radden, 2011 Language structure and use are largely shaped by cognitive processes such as categorizing framing inferencing associative metonymic and analogical metaphorical thinking and mediated through cognition by bodily experience emotion perception action social communicative interaction culture and the internal ecology of the linguistic system itself The contributors to the present volume demonstrate how these language independent factors motivate grammar and the lexicon in a variety of languages such as English German French Italian Hungarian Russian Croatian Japanese and Korean The volume will be of great interest to students and scholars in cognitive and functional linguistics

Attitudes, Orientations, and Motivations in Language Learning Zoltan Dornyei, 2003-04-11 Motivation is one of the key learner characteristics that determine the rate and success of language learning This volume addresses motivation in language learning motives associated with certain features of the language the language learner and the learning situation Discusses and dissects the intriguingly complex characteristic of motivation in the process of language learning Explores recent developments and the most important research directions in the field including a selection of data based studies by some of the best known motivation researchers

Motivation, Language Attitudes and Globalisation Zoltan Dornyei, Kata Csizér, Na3ra Na(c)Meth, 2006-04-12 This volume presents the results of the largest ever language attitude motivation survey in second language studies The research team gathered data from over 13 000 Hungarian language learners on three successive occasions in 1993 1999 and 2004 The examined period covers a particularly prominent time in Hungary's history the transition from a closed Communist society to a western style democracy that became a member of the European Union in 2004 Thus the book provides an attitudinal motivational flow chart describing how significant sociopolitical changes affect the language disposition of a nation

Destiny and Motivation in Language Abraham Aaron Roback, 1954

Second Language Learning Motivation in a European Context: The Case of Hungary Kata Csizér, 2021-01-04 This book provides an overview of second language L2 motivation research in a specific European context Hungary which has proved to offer an important laboratory for such research as a number of major political changes over the past 30 years have created a changing background for L2 learning in an increasingly globalized world. The book provides an overview of theoretical research on L2 motivation together with detailed information on large scale L2 motivation studies in Hungary. Further it presents a meta analysis of the most important investigations and qualitative data on teachers' views regarding success in L2 learning. In turn the interdisciplinary nature of L2 motivation is taken into account and relevant antecedent constructs to L2 motivation are investigated. Lastly the book outlines possible future directions for L2 motivation research.

Studies in the Linguistic Sciences, 1999 Motivation as a Factor in Second Language Acquisition Katharina Ochsenfahrt, 2012-05-29

Seminar paper from the year 2012 in the subject English Language and Literature Studies Linguistics grade 2-3 http://www.uni-jena.de/Anglistik/Amerikanistik/course/Second Language Learning language English/abstract

The limits of my language are the limits of my world. This quotation by Ludwig Wittgenstein a famous philosopher of the 19th century shows how important second language learning is in our modern society. Language is one of the main components of the society and culture of the people who speak it. People speaking different languages are important for the community in which they work and live because they can connect different cultural groups. Besides this social factor there is an economic need for multilingual people as well. Apart from the requirement of translators and interpreters there are an increasing number of jobs where people are required to interact with people from foreign countries. The ability of communicating in two or more language can be an essential reason for getting your dream job. Another advantage of speaking different languages is that it makes travelling much easier and gives you the opportunity of maintaining friendships with people from all over the world. Nowadays most children start learning a second and even a third language when they are still very young. Mostly they are not aware of the benefits of speaking different languages for their later lives. They simply learn it because it is in the curriculum of their school which is designed for the needs of society rather than for the learner's interests. This does not seem like a good point of departure for a successful learning process. So it is the teacher's major challenge to motivate the students to put effort in learning the foreign language. But how does motivation influence second language learning This paper will define motivation and introduce different motivation theories Then it will discuss the influences of motivation on second language learni

Motivation as a Factor in Second Language Acquisition ,2018-01-09 Seminar paper from the year 2017 in the subject Didactics for the subject English Miscellaneous grade 1 3 University of Duisburg Essen Department of Anglophone Studies language English abstract The limits of my language are the limits of my world Ludwig Wittgenstein Ludwig Wittgenstein was a philosopher of the 19th century his quotation underlines the importance of second language acquisition We live in a globalised world where language is the most important way of communication People all over the world share their cultures and beliefs through their language and interact with each other Aside from social factors language plays an important economic role Nowadays it is not enough to speak one language many employers prefer employees who are multilingual Moreover many children are growing up multilingual which is regarded as a huge advantage In larger terms they are seen as positive result of our globalised world Besides this English is the world language and connects the world Many schools in foreign countries started offering English lessons in primary schools to increase the number of fluent English speakers According to this many teachers try to optimise their lessons and way of teaching Second language acquisition has become a huge field for further research Theories and models are getting improved in order to create better learning environments and help teachers to use authentic and optimised methods in their lessons Many theories and models underline the significance of motivation during language acquiring processes But how important is motivation in second language acquisition and what effect does it have while acquiring a new language This term paper will give a brief definition of the term motivation Then it will present some important and influential motivation theories in order to discuss the influences on second language acquisition Finally it will answer the question what teachers can do to increase the motivation in language classrooms

Studies in Linguistics in Honor of Raven I. McDavid, Jr Raven Ioor McDavid,1972 Complexity in Classroom Foreign Language Learning Motivation Richard J. Sampson,2016-06-02 This book explores how complex systems theory can contribute to the understanding of classroom language learner motivation through an extended examination of one particular situated research project Working from the lived experience of the participants the study describes how action research methods were used to explore the dynamic conditions operating in a foreign language classroom in Japan The book draws attention to the highly personalised and individual yet equally co formed nature of classroom foreign language learning motivation and to the importance of agency and emotions in language learning It presents an extended illustration of the applicability of complex systems theory for research design and process in SLA and its narrative approach shines light upon the evolving nature of research and role of the researcher The study will be a valuable resource for practitioners researchers and postgraduate students interested in classroom language teaching and learning especially those with a focus on motivation among learners
