Martin,2012-12-23 Focusing on individual political thinkers and beginning with indigenous African political thought the book successively examines African nationalism African socialism populism and Marxism Africanism and pan Africanism concluding with contemporary perspectives on democracy development and the African state Hierarchies at Work Karen Engle,Neville Hoad,2025-06-10 This book challenges dominant understandings of both economic inequality and the future of work Leading scholars in law social sciences and the humanities consider the production and reproduction of global hierarchies by revisiting and deploying three critical approaches that emerged in the late twentieth century racial capitalism world systems theory and critical legal distributional analysis They demonstrate that these methods especially when brought together offer new insights into the forces that entrench the asymmetries of power and wealth that are too often shorthanded as inequality They also uncover elisions and erasures of the past and present in prevailing technological determinist narratives about the future of work Hierarchies at Work features powerful grounded studies of the dynamics of work and livelihood in sites ranging from garment factories in Jordan and palm oil fields in Colombia to dairy farms in the United States These studies underscore the necessity of thinking about the future of work and livelihoods through their racialized past and present and recognizing the systemic role of law in unequal distribution Highlighting alternative imaginaries that contest systems of domination and subordination this timely book offers resources to spur more just futures across local and global levels

The Challenge of Blackness

Derrick E. White,2011-09-01 The Challenge of Blackness examines the history and legacy of the Institute of the Black World IBW one of the most important Black Freedom Struggle organizations to emerge in the aftermath of the assassination of Dr Martin Luther King Jr A think tank based in Atlanta the IBW sought to answer King's question Where do we go from here Its solution was to organize a broad array of leading Black activists scholars and intellectuals to find ways to combine the emerging academic discipline of Black Studies with the Black political agenda Throughout the 1970s debates over race and class in the United States grew increasingly hostile and the IBW's approach was ultimately unable to challenge the growing conservatism. By using the IBW as the lens through which to view these turbulent years Derrick White provides an exciting new interpretation of the immediate post civil rights years in America

Fear of a Black Nation David Austin, 2023-04-18

In the 1960s Montreal was a hotbed of radical politics that attracted Black and Caribbean figures such as C L R James, Walter Rodney, Mariam Makeba, Stokely Carmichael, Rocky Jones, and douard Glissant. It was also a place where the ideas of Frantz Fanon, Aim C saire, and Malcolm X circulated alongside those of Karl Marx, Jean Paul Sartre, and Simone de Beauvoir. During this period of global upheaval and heightened Canadian and Quebec nationalism, Montreal became a central site of Black and Caribbean radical politics. Situating Canada within the Black radical tradition and its Caribbean radical counterpart, Fear of a Black Nation paints a history of Montreal and the Black activists who lived, sojourned in, or visited the city and agitated for change. Drawing on Saidiya Hartman's conception of slavery's afterlife and what David Austin describes as biosexuality, a deeply embedded fear of Black self-organization and interracial solidarity, Fear of a Black Nation argues that the policing and surveillance of Black lives today is tied to the racial, including sexual, codes and practices and the discipline and punishment associated with slavery. As a meditation on Black radical politics and state security surveillance and repression, Fear of a Black Nation combines theoretical and philosophical inquiry with literary, oral, and archival sources to reflect on Black political organizing. In reflecting on Black self-organization and historic events such as the Congress of Black Writers and the Sir George Williams Affair, the book ultimately poses the question: what can past freedom struggles teach us about the struggle for freedom today? Featuring two new interviews with the author and a new preface, this expanded second edition enriches the political and theoretical conversation on Black organizing and movement building in Canada and internationally. As the Black Lives Matter and abolition movements today popularize calls to disarm and defund the police and to abolish prisons, Fear of a Black Nation provides an invaluable reflection on the policing of Black activism and a compelling political analysis of social movements and freedom struggles that is more relevant now than ever.

Among the critical questions that Rodney dealt with was whether he was in Tanzania, Jamaica, or his native Guyana. Formerly British Guiana, the character of the postcolonial state and its relationship with the working people. It is his engagement with politics that guided his research into African and Caribbean history. In the post-World War II era, the colonial powers had regrouped and were rebuilding Europe with the strong financial and political support of the capitalist United States. The Soviet Union, one of the victors over German fascism, was the other power on the world scene. It was communist and engaged in a Cold War with the United States, the dominant global power. China, under Mao Tse Tung, was the other communist state that had emerged after the 1949 revolution with a huge rural population, much poverty, and a low level of industrialization. Capitalist and socialist powers vied for the hearts and minds of the peoples of Asia, Africa, and the Caribbean that were shaking off the shackles of colonialism. Latin American countries which had achieved their political independence in the nineteenth century were caught up in this nationalist surge as they battled with neo colonialism They battled with Spain their colonial overlord but also with the United States which regarded Latin America and the Caribbean as its backyard and intervened as it saw fit to pursue its strategic military political and economic goals The Garvey and labor movements of the 1920s and 1930s in the Caribbean as well as communist and national liberation movements in the twentieth century helped to shape Walter Rodney s political awareness His parents generation was actively involved in the anti colonial movement in British Guiana in the 1940s and 1950s and in the 1960s and 1970s Rodney himself helped to shape the ideas around African and Caribbean decolonization Pan Africanism and Marxism Walter Rodney Rupert Lewis,1998 Walter Rodney a leading historian of Africa a political activist and Caribbean intellectual before his untimely death in 1980 taught African History in Jamaica at the University of the West Indies Mona Campus in the late 1960s Lewis article revisits Rodney s political activism during this period within the context of pre existing social movement among the urban poor and Rastafarian brethren Rodney was expelled from the island in 1968 by the Jamaican government Lewis argues that his expulsion was based on the fear that Rodney s interactions with the urban poor and Rastafarian brethren could lead to the emergence of a radical political ideology which would pose a threat to the Jamaican political system and its power structure This republication along with Walter Rodney s Intellectual and Political Thought The Press UWI 1998 also by the same author is timely as it marks the 30th anniversary of Rodney s expulsion from Jamaica on 16 October 1968 The Journal of American History Organization of American historians,2000 Vice-chancellor's Report - University of the West Indies University of the West Indies (Mona, Jamaica),1997 The Nation ,1891 International Bibliography of Book Reviews of Scholarly Literature Chiefly in the Fields of Arts and Humanities and the Social Sciences ,1999 Book Review Index ,2003 Vols 8 10 of the 1965 1984 master cumulation constitute a title index Relations Between Africans and African Americans Godfrey Mwakikagile,2007 The author born and brought up in Africa looks at relations between Africans and African Americans which have sometimes been described by different observers as stormy complex sticky and even hostile as one Nigerian professor put it This is the third edition which includes information about African immigrants in the United States Together with foreign students from Africa they constitute the largest number of continental Africans who interact with African Americans on daily basis International Books in Print ,1986 Journal of American Studies ,1999 New West Indian guide ,2005 The Writers Directory ,2013 The International Journal of African Studies ,2001 G.K. Hall Bibliographic Guide to Latin American Studies Benson Latin American Collection,1999
