Philosophy and Film Christina Rawls, Diana Neiva, Steven S. Gouveia, 2019-04-25 This volume collects twenty original essays on the philosophy of film. It uniquely brings together scholars working across a range of philosophical traditions and academic disciplines to broaden and advance debates on film and philosophy. The book includes contributions from a number of prominent philosophers of film including Noël Carroll, Chris Falzon, Deborah Knight, Paisley Livingston, Robert Sinnerbrink, Malcolm Turvey, and Thomas Wartenberg. While the topics explored by the contributors are diverse, there are a number of thematic threads that connect them. Overall, the book seeks to bridge analytic and continental approaches to philosophy of film in fruitful ways. Moving to the individual essays, the first two sections offer novel takes on the philosophical value and the nature of film. The next section focuses on the film as philosophy debate. Section IV covers cinematic experience while Section V includes interpretations of individual films that touch on questions of artificial intelligence, race, and film and cinema's biopolitical potential. Finally, the last section proposes new avenues for future research on the moving image beyond film. This book will appeal to a broad range of scholars working in film studies, theory, and philosophy.

A Concise History of Florida James C. Clark, 2014-09-23 A quick overview of the Sunshine State's fascinating past with photos and illustrations included. In 1513, Spanish explorer Juan Ponce de León first set foot on Florida's east coast. The land he discovered was a geographic anomaly so distinctive that one day centuries later astronaut Neil Armstrong would say that Florida was the first shape on earth he recognized on his return from a visit to the moon. This unique state has witnessed such momentous events as the 1959 arrival of the first Cuban exiles under Fidel Castro and the 1981 launch of the Columbia, the first space shuttle. Join historian James C. Clark as he chronicles the surprising history of the Sunshine State in this concise and captivating book.

Hollywood's America Stephen P. Powers, 2018-02-19 American motion pictures still dominate the world market with an impact that is difficult to measure. Their role in American culture has been a powerful one since the 1930s and is a hallmark of our culture today. Though much has been written about the film industry, there has been very little systematic attention paid to the ideology of its creative elite. How does the outlook of that elite impact on the portrayals of America that appear on the screen? How do their views interact with the demands of the market and the structure of the industry to determine the product that is seen by mass audiences? Hollywood's America is a marvellously rich and careful discussion of these questions. It combines a meticulous systematic content analysis of fifty years of top-grossing films with a history of the changing structure of the industry. To that mixture it adds an in-depth survey of Hollywood's creative elite, comparing them to other leadership groups. The result is a balanced discussion of unique breadth and depth on a subject of national importance. Placing the film industry in the context of American society as a whole, the authors point out that Hollywood's creative leadership impacts the larger society even as it is influenced by that society. The creators of films cannot remove themselves too far from the values of the audiences that they serve. However, the fact that films are made by a relatively small number of people who as the authors demonstrate tend to share a common outlook means that over time motion pictures have had an undeniable impact on the beliefs lifestyles and action of Americans This study contributes to the debate over the role and influence of those who create and distribute the products of mass culture in the United States The book also contains a devastating critique of the poststructuralist theories that currently dominate academic film criticism demonstrating how they fail in their attempt to explain the political significance of motion pictures

Singin' in the Rain Earl J. Hess, Pratibha A. Dabholkar, 2009 This title combines prose with scholarship to provide the complete inside story of how Singin in the Rain was made marketed and received

Projecting Paranoia Ray Pratt, 2001 A wide ranging and idiosyncratic look at sixty years of politics and film that uncovers how American movies have mirrored and even challenged anxieties and paranoid perceptions embedded in American society since the start of the Cold War The first book to take a sweeping look at 60 years of film and analyze them thematically

Newsweek, 1954-09

Jazz Noir David Butler, 2002-03-30 Explores the strange and commonly misunderstood relationship between jazz music and the film noir genre

60 Years of the Oscar Robert Osborne, 1989 Illustrations and text provide an official history of the Academy Awards to 1988

70 Years of the Oscar Robert Osborne, 1999 Entertaining text and star studded photos present the story of the Academy Awards from the beginning in 1927 to the return of the golden age of Hollywood with Titanic at the 1998 awards 700 photos 60 in color Movie stills Original posters

Take Two Seth Feldman, 1984

Is This Heaven? Brett Mandel, 2002-09-01 More than three decades ago the film Field of Dreams made grown men cry with its tale of a son s quest to know his father through the magic of baseball The mystical baseball field of that movie continues to attract thousands of visitors and here is the story of a make believe place made real its incredible lure and its effect on the people who have stepped between its chalk lines

Soviet Communism from Reform to Collapse Robert Vincent Daniels, 1995 This anthology of documents and essays examines the transformation and ultimate demise of communism in the former Soviet Union during the Gorbachev era The selections address cultural and social ferment political events economic and technological change military diplomacy ideology and resurgence of nationalism and ethnic conflicts

Look, 1964

Arenas of the Mind Lillian Back, 1993

The Hudson Review Frederick Morgan, 1954

Hollywood's Canada Pierre Berton, 1975 Between 1907 and 1975 Hollywood movie makers made 575 movies specifically set although not usually filmed in Canada That statistic will startle those Canadians who have been told that foreign audiences won t sit still for a film about their country As Pierre Berton points out in this explosive tragic and often funny book the opposite is true Movies about Canada have been making money in international markets for half a century But the Canada that has been shown to the world is very different from the real Canada and the Canadian image now firmly fixed in the minds of three generations of moviegoers is a caricature of the real thing If Canadians have no sense of their own identity it is partly because American movie makers have distorted and blurred that identity And if foreigners think of this country as a land of snow swept forests and mountains devoid of larger cities and peopled by happy go lucky French Canadians wicked half breeds wild trappers and loggers savage Indians and above all grim jawed Mounties that s because Hollywood has pictured us that way Berton who has examined the plot of almost every movie made about this country finds that the Hollywood image of Canada and its people have been consistent since the first one reel silent films were made in 1907 The prairies are rarely shown almost every movie is an outdoor film set in the wilderness the only city mentioned with any regularity is Montreal The Great Woods begin at the border and stretch on the Arctic Circle The Canadian frontier is seen by Hollywood as an extension of the American frontier lawless and violent peopled by gunslingers and studded with gambling halls and saloons The Mountie is treated as an American frontier marshal in a red coat The Klondike and the Yukon Territory are totally confused with Alaska Our great historical adventures when they are dealt with at all the building of the Canadian Pacific for example and the Riel Rebellion are distorted to the point where they are unrecognizable Cecil B DeMille s production of North West Mounted Police was hailed by international critics including Canadians as the most authentic pictures ever made about the Mounties but as Berton shows in fascinating detail DeMille turned history topsy turvy and managed to give the impression that the Mounties themselves had okayed the film Berton s research which has taken him from London to Hollywood and which makes use of hitherto unpublished material from the files of the RCMP and the Public Archives of Canada reveals in detail the successful efforts of the Hollywood lobby to quash a quota system for films in post war Canada a system that might have given us a native born movie industry The book is studded with illuminating discoveries a plea from Rudolph Friml s office to Pierre Elliot Trudeau begging him not to destroy the beautiful legend of Rose Marie The author points out there are four legends all totally different an RCMP commissioner s wistful telegram to Hollywood Mounted police would appreciate being left alone the Yukon River steamboat sequence slipped into a movie about the Dionne Quintuplets the trials and tribulations of an ex Mountie acting as technical adviser in Hollywood These are some of the surprises in a book which is not only an exciting revelatory narrative of more than sixty years of exploitation but also a work of careful scholarship Publisher
