The Murdering Mind:

The Murdering Mind David Abrahamsen, 1975-01-01 The Brain Defense Kevin Davis, 2017-02-28 Called the best kind of nonfiction by Michael Connelly this riveting new book combines true crime brain science and courtroom drama In 1991 the police were called to East 72nd St in Manhattan where a woman's body had fallen from a twelfth story window The woman's husband Herbert Weinstein soon confessed to having hit and strangled his wife after an argument then dropping her body out of their apartment window to make it look like a suicide The 65 year old Weinstein a quiet unassuming retired advertising executive had no criminal record no history of violent behavior not even a short temper How then to explain this horrific act Journalist Kevin Davis uses the perplexing story of the Weinstein murder to present a riveting deeply researched exploration of the intersection of neuroscience and criminal justice Shortly after Weinstein was arrested an MRI revealed a cyst the size of an orange on his brain's frontal lobe the part of the brain that governs judgment and impulse control Weinstein's lawyer seized on that discovery arguing that the cyst had impaired Weinstein's judgment and that he should not be held criminally responsible for the murder It was the first case in the United States in which a judge allowed a scan showing a defendant's brain activity to be admitted as evidence to support a claim of innocence The Weinstein case marked the dawn of a new era in America's courtrooms raising complex and often troubling questions about how we define responsibility and free will how we view the purpose of punishment and how strongly we are willing to bring scientific evidence to bear on moral questions Davis brings to light not only the intricacies of the Weinstein case but also the broader history linking brain injuries and aberrant behavior from the bizarre stories of Phineas Gage and Charles Whitman perpetrator of the 1966 Texas Tower massacre to the role that brain damage may play in violence carried out by football players and troubled veterans of America's twenty first century wars The Weinstein case opened the door for a novel defense that continues to transform the legal system Criminal lawyers are increasingly turning to neuroscience and introducing the effects of brain injuries whether caused by trauma or by tumors cancer or drug or alcohol abuse and arguing that such damage should be considered in determining guilt or innocence the death penalty or years behind bars As he takes stock of the past present and future of neuroscience in the courts Davis offers a powerful account of its potential and its hazards Thought provoking and brilliantly crafted The Brain Defense marries a murder mystery complete with colorful characters and courtroom drama with a sophisticated discussion of how our legal system has changed and must continue to change as we broaden our understanding of the human mind Extreme Killing James Alan Fox, Jack Levin, Emma E. Fridel, 2018-02-06 Extreme Killing offers a comprehensive overview of multiple homicide including both serial and mass murder Filled with classic and contemporary case studies this fully updated Fourth Edition reflects a growing concern for specific types of multiple homicides indiscriminate public massacres terrorist attacks hate crimes and school shootings as well as largely debated issues such as gun control and mental illness Renowned experts and authors in the field James Alan Fox Jack Levin and Emma Fridel bring their years of research and experience to create distinctions between serial and mass murders address characteristics of both killers and their victims and recognize the special concerns around multiple murder victims and their survivors Students will examine the latest theories of criminal behavior and apply them to mass and serial murderers from around the world such as the mass shooting at a country music festival in Las Vegas the Grim Sleeper in Los Angeles the Pulse nightclub massacre in Orlando the shooting of nine African Americans by a white supremacist in a Charleston church and more
