The Diary of Caroline Seabury, 1854-1863 Caroline Seabury, 1991 The diary is an illuminating account of southern plantation society and the peculiar institution of slavery on the eve of its destruction The Diary of Caroline Seabury, 1854-1863 Caroline Seabury, 1991 The diary is an illuminating account of southern plantation society and the peculiar institution of slavery on the eve of its destruction Native American Autobiography Arnold Krupat, 1994 Publisher description Native American Autobiography is the first collection to bring together the major autobiographical narratives by Native American people from the earliest documents that exist to the present _ The thirty narratives included here cover a range of tribes and cultural areas over a span of more than 200 years From the earliest known written memoir a 1768 narrative by the Reverend Samson Occom a Mohegan reproduced as a chapter here to recent reminiscences by such prominent writers as N Scott Momaday and Gerald Vizenor the book covers a broad range of Native American experience Editor Arnold Krupat provides a general introduction a historical introduction to each of the seven sections extensive headnotes for each selection and suggestions for further reading making this an ideal resource for courses in American literature history anthropology and Native American studies General readers too will find a wealth of fascinating material in the life stories of these Native American men and women American Autobiography After 9/11 Megan Brown, 2017-01-10 In the post 9 11 era a flood of memoirs has wrestled with anxieties both personal and national Reading African American Autobiography Eric D. Lamoire, 2017-01-10 From the 1760s to Barack Obama this collection offers fresh looks at classic African American life narratives highlights neglected African American lives texts and genres and discusses the diverse outpouring of twenty first century memoirs Authority and Alliance in the Letters of Henry Adams Joanne Jacobson, 1992 Argues that radical cultural change in the late 19th century US intensified a set of complex rhetorical imperatives which the letter was a genre ideally positioned to serve and draws supporting evidence from the letters of historian Henry Adams Concludes that faced with isolation and alienation from the quickly industrializing and urbanizing society he chose letters as a medium over which he retained rhetorical control and could therefore use to seek alliance and resistance Paper edition unseen 14 95 Annotation copyright by Book News Inc Portland OR The Education of a WASP Lois M. Stalvey, 1989-02-01 Brimming with honesty and passion The Education of a WASP chronicles one white woman's discovery of racism in 1960s America First published in 1970 and highly acclaimed by reviewers Lois Stalvey's account is as timely now as it was then Nearly twenty years later with ugly racial incidents occurring on college campuses in neighborhoods and in workplaces everywhere her account of personal encounters with racism remains deeply disturbing Educators and general readers interested in the subtleties of racism will find the story poignant revealing and profoundly moving Delightful and horrible a singular book Choice An extraordinarily honest and revealing book that poses the issue loyalty to one's ethnic group or loyalty to conscience Publishers Weekly Recovering Bodies G. Thomas Couser, 1997-11-01

This is a provocative look at writing by and about people with illness or disability in particular HIV AIDS breast cancer deafness and paralysis who challenge the stigmas attached to their conditions by telling their lives in their own ways and on their own terms Discussing memoirs diaries collaborative narratives photo documentaries essays and other forms of life writing G Thomas Couser shows that these books are not primarily records of medical conditions they are a means for individuals to recover their bodies or those of loved ones from marginalization and impersonal medical discourse Responding to the recent growth of illness and disability narratives in the United States such works as Juliet Wittman's Breast Cancer Journal John Hockenberry's Moving Violations Paul Monette's Borrowed Time An AIDS Memoir and Lou Ann Walker's A Loss for Words The Story of Deafness in a Family Couser addresses questions of both poetics and politics He examines why and under what circumstances individuals choose to write about illness or disability what role plot plays in such narratives how and whether closure is achieved who assumes the prerogative of narration which conditions are most often represented and which literary conventions lend themselves to representing particular conditions By tracing the development of new subgenres of personal narrative in our time this book explores how explicit consideration of illness and disability has enriched the repertoire of life writing In addition Couser's discussion of medical discourse joins the current debate about whether the biomedical model is entirely conducive to humane care for ill and disabled people With its sympathetic critique of the testimony of those most affected by these conditions Recovering Bodies contributes to an understanding of the relations among bodily dysfunction cultural conventions and identity in contemporary America

The Zea Mexican Diary, 7 Sept 1926-7 Sept 1986 Kamau Brathwaite, 1993 In May of 1986 Kamau Brathwaite learned that his wife Doris was dying of cancer and had only a short time to live Responding as a poet he began helplessly spasmodically to record her passage in a diary The Zea Mexican Diary is a collection of excerpts from this diary and other notes from this period of the Brathwaites lives and few who read this book will fail to be caught up in the depth of Kamau Brathwaite s grief The Zea Mexican Diary is a tribute to Doris Brathwaite and an exploration of the creative potency of love The title comes from the name Brathwaite gave Doris who was originally from Guyana of part Amerindian descent Exposing the intimacy of his marriage this book is the closest Brathwaite has ever come to an autobiographical statement In examining his life with Doris he found the courage to reveal something of himself But more than an autobiography The Zea Mexican Diary is an extraordinary work of literature much of it written in the expressive nation language of Jamaica and the Caribbean Brathwaite filters his pain through his poetic gift presenting it to the reader with all the poignancy poetry conveys The force of Doris Brathwaite s character takes shape through Brathwaite s thoughts She was a significant presence in West Indian culture in her own right as an inspiration for her husband s poetry and through her efforts in the creation of the Caribbean Artists Movement and her contributions to the publishing cooperative Savacou Brathwaite writes fondly of Doris s immense generosity toward him and toward the community at large Brathwaite s journal and the poetry he composed during this time is also an exploration of his relationships to women his mother and sister as well as his wife The latter portion of The Zea Mexican Diary is a selection of letters Brathwaite wrote to his sister Mary after Doris s death In these letters he accuses Mary of abandoning him in his time of need These letters reflect the emotions generated by his great loss Zea Mexican s memory is finally laid to rest in Brathwaite s description of a tree planting ritual Her ashes are strewn amongst the roots of a tulip tree where Brathwaite writes she was becoming w the sky its blue so very blue that morning with God with the God in all of this in all of us circle through circle through cycle through time Brathwaite begins the next cycle of his own life in the last chapter entitled Anyaneanyane The Awakening Jumping the Line William Herrick,1998-04-15 William Herrick relates his adventures and misadventures on the front lines of the Spanish Civil War in and very much out of the Communist Party driving a tractor on a communal farm in Michigan jumping the line as a hobo organizing African American sharecroppers in Georgia at work with Orson Welles and immersed in his own writing Book Review Digest ,1993 Excerpts from and citations to reviews of more than 8 000 books each year drawn from coverage of 109 publications Book Review Digest provides citations to and excerpts of reviews of current juvenile and adult fiction and nonfiction in the English language Reviews of the following types of books are excluded government publications textbooks and technical books in the sciences and law Reviews of books on science for the general reader however are included The reviews originate in a group of selected periodicals in the humanities social sciences and general science published in the United States Canada and Great Britain Publisher

Intensely Family Carol Holly,1995 In 1911 at the age of 68 Henry James began A Small Boy and Others with the intent of writing a memoir of his brother William and other members of his family Within months however James s interest in others was replaced by a desire to trace his personal development Subsequently he began a lengthy examination of both his own past and the psychological heritage of the James family in a two volume autobiography A Small Boy and Others and Notes of a Son and Brother Through the process of writing his autobiography James maintained that at every step of the process he was becoming more intensely family Documenting the rich connotations of James s phrase intensely family Carol Holly examines the shame based psychology bred by his parents and the impact of that psychology on James s literary career Interpreting the act of autobiography as a biographical event Holly also draws on a collection of James s largely unpublished correspondence with his sister in law and nephew from the period when he was writing A Small Boy and Notes She provides a contextual interpretation of the autobiographies and offers a detailed look at the complex emotional life of James the autobiographer The Text is Myself Miriam Fuchs,2004 German Jewish novelist Grete Weil fled to Holland but her husband was arrested there and murdered by the Nazis Chilean novelist Isabel Allende fled her country after her uncle Salvador Allende was assassinated and she later lost her daughter to disease American Lives Robert F. Sayre,1994 American Lives is a groundbreaking book the first historically organized anthology of American autobiographical writing bringing us fifty five voices from throughout the nation s history from Abigail Adams Abraham Lincoln Jonathan Edwards and Richard Wright to Quaker preacher Elizabeth Ashbridge con man Stephen Burroughs and circus impresario P T Barnum Representing canonical and non canonical writers slaves and slave owners generals and conscientious objectors scientists immigrants and Native Americans the pieces in this collection make up a rich gathering of American songs of ourselves Robert F Sayre frames the selections with an overview of theory and criticism of autobiography and with commentary on the relation between history and many kinds of autobiographical texts travel narratives stories of captivity diaries of sexual liberation religious conversions accounts of political disillusionment and discoveries of ethnic identity With each selection Sayre also includes an extensive headnote providing valuable critical and biographical information A scholarly and popular landmark American Lives is a book for general readers and for teachers students and every American scholar

My Generation John Downton Hazlett, 1998 John Hazlett's engaging study of writers from the 1960s demonstrates the ways in which the idea of the generation has affected autobiographical writing in this century Autobiographers from the sixties claim to speak on behalf of all members of their generation However each writer presents a unique political and personal agenda
