Layers of the Atmosphere

The Troposphere is the layer closest to the earth's surface with an average height of 13 km. It is the region where almost all the weather conditions take place. Its temperature generally decreases with increasing altitude.

The Stratosphere has a very thin air and intensely heated by the sun's rays that is why the temperature increases with altitude. It starts just above the troposphere with an average height of 50 km above the earth's surface. It is the region where the ozone layer formed.

The Mesosphere is directly above the stratosphere, it extends from about 50 to 80 km. Its temperature decreases with increasing altitude and is considered as the coldest layer of the atmosphere. When meteors reached this layer, the meteors burned up into smaller fragments.

The Thermosphere's temperature increases extremely high with altitude. It is the region where the famous aurora borealis formed. The altitude range is about 85km to 500km.

The Exosphere is the outermost layer of the earth's atmosphere. It extends from the top of the thermosphere to 10,000 km above the earth.
