The Mibouri Review Experiment:

The Missouri Review ,2016 Teaching as a Human Experience Patrick Blessinger, Karen J. Head, 2015-09-18 The poems in this collection deal with the real life worlds of professors instructors lecturers teachers and others working in education This volume covers contemporary teaching experiences in education including the many roles that teachers play such as instructing lecturing mentoring facilitating coaching guiding and leading This volume covers the manifold life experiences and perspectives of being and working as a teacher in education and the epiphanies experienced in that role This volume gives creative voice to the full range of experiences by teachers students and others and empowers readers with inspiration and personal agency as they evolve as self creating self determining authors of their own lives both personally and professionally The poems in this volume are largely based on teachers meaningful experiences in and out of the classroom and will provide artistic inspiration and creative insight to others who currently work as teachers or those students who are preparing to be professors instructors and teachers or those students who simply enjoy the creative voice of others

Traumatic Experience and Repressed Memory in Magical Realist Novels Md Abu Shahid Abdullah, 2020-03-02 This book explores the close association between the literary representation of historical trauma and the alternative narrative form of magical realism underscoring the role of memory empathy and imagination It discusses the potential of magical realism to give a literary representation to individual and collective trauma arising from the Holocaust slavery and apartheid and to turn those unspoken memories into narratives It also analyses the role of magical realism in depicting trauma suffered by female victims during and following those events Again by dealing with the above mentioned events their specific historical context and universal meaning for humankind this book highlights a universal experience of trauma The Missouri

Review of Current Research and Directory of Member Institutions ,1959 The Germans in Missouri, 1900-1918 David W. Detjen, 1985 Throughout its existence the National German American Alliance was not only an important cultural institution in the German American community but also one of the principal organized opponents ethnic or otherwise to those organizations in the state agitating for the control or prohibition of liquor It is hard to conceive of any history of the political struggles over prohibition and temperance legislation of the time ignoring the efforts of the Alliance in opposition to such legislation Yet it is surprising how little has been written on the National German American Alliance and its state and local affiliates There have been a number of books and articles on either the national organization or one or the other of its local branches But few of those studies have analyzed closely the significance of the anti prohibition activism of the Alliance in the minds of its members and supporters and in the minds of its opponents For many German Americans the anti prohibition agitation of the Alliance was the principal justification for its existence Another purpose of this book is to describe the Weltanschauung of the Alliance leadership and its reaction to the pressures of assimilation as it endeavored to meet the challenge of preserving German culture in an ethnic community rapidly being assimilated
