Structuration De L'espace Dans Les Langues De La B:

Structuration de l'espace dans les langues de la Baltique orientale: Organisation de l'espace habité Fanny de Sivers, 1978 Contributions de S F Kolbuszewski F Scholz U Obst F de Sivers W Weenker H D Rinholm et W R Schmalstieg

Les structures de l'espace linguistique Michel Aurnague, 2004 Ce livre centre sur les données du basque et du français est une contribution aux recherches relatives à l'expression de l'espace dans la langue. Une approche formelle en trois niveaux du lexique spatial est tout d'abord proposée: géométrie, fonction, pragmatique, constituant l'arrière-plan des analyses descriptives ultérieures. La seconde partie introduit un cadre théorique pour l'étude des relations de partie à tout et illustre les potentialités de ce dispositif à travers l'examen de plusieurs marqueurs génitifs du basque: verbes préfixés en e du français. Noms de localisation interne. Chemin faisant, diverses distinctions entre entités spatiales opérées par la langue sont mises en évidence. Le troisième volet de l'ouvrage examine la sémantique de deux relations spatiales: cas inessif du basque et préposition par du français, en montrant ici encore le rôle essentiel joué par les connaissances sur les entités. Après quelques prolongements et échappées, la dernière partie aborde certaines questions théoriques importantes à la lumière des résultats obtenus: rapports corpus, introspection sémantique, référentielle, théories localistes, relativité linguistique.

Language and Social Structure in Urban France David Hornsby, 2017-07-05 The coming together of linguistics and sociology in the 1960s most notably via the work of William Labov marked a revolution in the study of language and provided a paradigm for the understanding of variation and change. Labovian quantitative methods have been employed successfully in North America, the UK, Scandinavia and New Zealand but have had surprisingly little resonance in France, a country which poses many challenges to orthodox sociolinguistic thinking. Why, for example, does a nation with unexceptional scores on income distribution and social mobility show an exceptionally high degree of linguistic levelling, that is the elimination of marked regional or local speech forms? And why does French appear to abound in hyperstyle variables which show greater variation on the stylistic than on the social dimension, in defiance of a well-established theory that such variables should not occur? This volume brings together leading variationist sociolinguists and sociologists from both sides of the Channel to ask what makes France exceptional. In addressing this question, variationists have been forced to reassess the accepted interdisciplinary consensus and to ask, as sociolinguistics has come of age, whether concepts and definitions have been transposed in a way which meaningfully preserves their original sense and crucially takes account of recent developments in sociology. Sociologists, for their part, have focused on the largely neglected area of language variation and its implications for social theory. Their findings therefore transcend the case study of a particularly enigmatic country to raise important theoretical questions for both disciplines.

Analyse psycholinguistique des erreurs faites lors de l'apprentissage d'une langue étrangère Gheorghe Doca, 1981

Essai sur l'organisation de l'espace par divers systèmes linguistiques Henri Vernay, 1974

La rencontre du temps et de l'espace Samia Naïm, 2006 Cet ouvrage s'attache à l'expression et aux manifestations simultanées du temps et de l'espace en focalisant l'attention sur les faits de langue et de culture qui révèlent des transitions des rencontres et des intersections entre ces univers notionnels. À partir de l'étude de langues afro-asiatique, Niger-Congo, dravidiennes, amérindiennes, de cultures et d'organisations sociales rurales, citadines, nomades pour l'essentiel non européennes, il participe au débat concernant l'orientation que peuvent prendre ces échanges. Qu'en est-il du processus d'emprunt métaphorique qui dans les langues européennes paraît opérer de façon préférentielle de l'espace vers le temps ? Y a-t-il des cultures moins spatialisantes que d'autres ? Quelle place accorder aux facteurs énonciatifs et pragmatiques dans l'appréhension de la relation temps-espace ? C'est en prenant appui sur des formes variées de productions orales : récits d'itinéraires réels ou imaginaires, entretiens, fragments de littérature orale recueillis sur leurs terrains, que les contributeurs à cet ouvrage linguistes et anthropologues prennent part au débat.

Grammaire descriptive de la langue des signes française Agnès Millet, 2021-02-07 La LSF est la langue gestuelle parlée par les Sourds de France. Longtemps interdite, elle a été reconnue en France en 2005 : un CAPES de LSF a été créé en 2010, elle est enseignée de l'école primaire à l'université.

La construction de l'espace analytique Serge Viderman, 1982 Paru en 1970, ce livre a suscité des nombreux débats chez les psychanalystes. L'auteur y définit vigoureusement et rigoureusement une position qui branle les idées reçues. Pour lui, ce qu'il appelle l'espace analytique n'est pas une donnée brute de l'expérience : il est construit. Le psychanalyste n'est pas neutre : simple chiffreur d'un sens, il définit la position. L'interprétation ne vient pas dévoiler la réalité d'un passé ; elle fabrique une vérité. Une psychanalyse est moins remémoration que création. Deux. En reconnaissant que leur science est minemment conjecturale, les analystes perdront assurément quelques illusions positivistes, mais ils gagneront avec leurs patients un plus de vérité.

Back cover Dynamiques et structures en langue David Piotrowski, 1997 Prolongeant et explicitant la pensée saussurienne, la conception dynamique des structures langagières constitue une alternative aux approches formalistes dérivées du programme chomskien. Le langage n'y est plus conçu sous le mode d'un calcul formel, mais comme un système de processus différenciateurs travaillant à modeler et à limiter, suivant les intentions de sens des locuteurs, des régions de signification. La conception dynamique réinvestit certains fondements pistologiques et méthodologiques de la linguistique contemporaine. Très précisément, on s'attache à montrer qu'elle procède d'un ajustement du critère de réfutabilité proposé par Karl Popper à l'ordre des phénomènes langagiers. Prenant appui sur les concepts fondamentaux du structuralisme saussurien et après une valuation critique des modèles formels en linguistique, une architecture fonctionnelle est proposée où les unités de langue se composent au croisement des dimensions de l'expression du contenu et de la recevabilité. Cette architecture, qui ambitionne de fournir une analytique de la connexion signifiant-signifié du régime de l'interprétation en langue, du phénomène de recevabilité et des processus de catégorisation du contenu par mergence d'un réseau de frontières, est développée dans le cadre d'une modélisation morphodynamique. Elle débouche sur une conception du langage comme système de production, négociée et de stabilisation de valeurs sémantiques.
