Struggle For The Third World:

The Global Struggle for More Bernard D. Nossiter,1987-01-01 The Politics of Transnational Peasant Struggle Robin Dunford,2016-05-25 New waves of land grabbing are working to dispossess peasants in both the Global South and the Global North But peasants are fighting back They have come together to contest dispossession through place based and transnational forms of activism In so doing they have articulated a demand for food sovereignty They claim that a democratically organized food system in which smallholder producers produce their own food on their own territory can feed the world whilst cooling the planet This book explores practices of peasant resistance Its aim is to show how grass roots peasant activists have been able to demand transnational social and political change In the process the book examines the grassroots forms of activism that enable peasants to reclaim land upon which to work and from which to live It explores how diverse grass roots movements have been able to connect and unite in order to contest transnational dynamics of oppression Moreover it discusses how practices of peasant activism transform how we think and ought to think about human rights and global democracy By also highlighting the problems that peasants continue to face the book indicates that the future of sustainable peasant livelihoods depends on the will of global organizations and transnational society to not just listen to the voices of peasant activists but to respond to them too

Citino,2017-02-17 This book reinterprets US Arab relations by examining conflicts between American Cold War policies and the modernizing visions of Arab nationalists Islamists and communists Okinawa Sengo Shoki Senryō Shiryo ,1994 Writing from the Hearth Mildred Mortimer,2007-11-01 If space is important in the realm of imagination and a key theme in feminist theory cross cultural studies of social maps reveal that men and women's spatial experiences differ women rarely control physical or social space directly Positing the thesis that women's writing of Francophone Africa and the Caribbean offers important perspectives on the relationship of gender to space Writing from the Hearth proposes close readings of Francophone women writers of Africa Aoua KZita Mariama B% Ken Bugul Calixthe Beyala and Aminata Sow Fall and the Caribbean Marie Chauvet Simon Schwarz Bart Maryse CondZ and Edwidge Danticat As critical readings of postcolonial African and Caribbean literature show that tropes of confinement appear frequently in female authored texts _where home is often depicted as a place of alienation_ this critical study examines ambiguities associated with domestic space as enclosure as it explores the relationship between the female protagonist and the inner and outer spaces of her world domestic imaginative and public space Writing from the Hearth probes the hypothesis that the female protagonist can move toward empowerment by entering public space from which she has been excluded by indigenous patriarchs and European colonizers and by establishing a new relationship to domestic space or securing a liberating alternative space within it Flexible and multipurpose alternative space is a place of possibilities that can function as a refuge for meditation recollection or fantasy an antechamber for action and a site of resistance and performance Here by telling the tale writing the creative work a woman can affirm her sense of self

Portrayals of Women in Pakistan Réka Máté,2023-06-19 This monograph examines the connection between progressivism and feminist movements in the Indian subcontinent scrutinizing shifting portrayals of women in Fahm dah Riy's poetry at the time of her writing from a historical perspective and the historical political social and personal influences reflected in her work and life The Pre-occupation of Postcolonial Studies Fawzia Afzal-Khan,Kalpana Seshadri-Crooks,2000 The Pre Occupation of Postcolonial Studies contains essays by both leading figures and younger scholars engaged in the field of postcolonial studies In this state of the field reader editors Fawzia Afzal Khan and Kalpana Seshadri Crooks have created a dynamic forum for contributors from a variety of theoretical and disciplinary vantage points to question both the limits and the limitations of postcolonial thought Since it burst on the academic scene as the hot new disciplinary field during the final decade of the twentieth century postcolonial studies has faced criticism from those who question its troubling trajectories its sometimes suspect epistemological and pedagogical methods and its relatively narrow focus With diverse essays that emerge from such disciplines as South Asian Latin American Arab and Jewish studies this volume responds to skeptics and adherents alike addressing not only the broad theoretical issues at stake within the field but also the position of the field itself within the academy as well as its relationship to modern postmodern and Marxist discourses. Contributors offer critiques on ahistorical and universalizing tendencies in postcolonial work and confront the need for scholars to attend to issues of class ideology and the effects of neocolonial practices. Seeking to broaden the field's traditionally literary spectrum of methodologies, these essayists take up large thematic issues to examine specific sites of colonial activities with all of their historical, political and cultural significance. Closing the volume is an insightful interview with Homi Bhabha in which he discusses postcolonial studies in the context of contemporary cultural politics and theory. The Pre-Occupation of Postcolonial Studies not only offers an overview of the discipline but also pushes and pulls at the edges of postcolonial studies, offering a comprehensive view of the field's diversity of thought and envisioning clear pathways for its future.
