Imagined Networks in Pre-Modern Italian

Literature Eleonora Buonocore, Giulia Cardillo, 2024-11-12 Imagined Networks in Pre Modern Italian Literature Literary Mothers Literary Sisters presents the untold stories of the literary mothers and sisters in pre modern Italian literature and the vibrant intellectual networks they forged The authors argue that these women writers became adoptive references for other authors often as an alternative to an established canon of textual authority The proposed concepts of literary motherhood and sisterhood focus on the agency of the writers in choosing a model rather than adhering to hierarchical structures The women showcased in this book defied conventions and are aware of the generative power of their works and regard themselves as literary guiding lights for future authors They built prolific communities through exchanges correspondences debates oblique conversations and sometimes subtle allusions that confer authority to each other The six essays in this book bring to life the figures of Caterina da Siena Isabella Andreini Giulia Bigolina Margherita Costa Lucrezia Marinella Arcangela Tarabotti and the relationship between Gaspara Stampa and Luisa Bergalli as well as that between Bianca Milesi Mojon and Maria Edgeworth      Ashgate Critical Essays on Women Writers in England, 1550-1700

Elaine V. Beilin, 2017-05-15 This volume includes leading scholarship on five writers active in the first half of the sixteenth century Margaret More Roper Katherine Parr Anne Askew Mildred Cooke Cecil and Anne Cooke Bacon The essays represent a range of theoretical approaches and provide valuable insights into the religious social economic and political contexts essential for understanding these writers texts Scholars examine the significance of Margaret More Roper s translations and letters in the contexts of humanism family relationships and changing cultural forces the contributions of Katherine Parr and Anne Askew to Reformation discourses and debates and the material presence of Mildred Cooke Cecil and Anne Cooke Bacon in the intellectual religious and political life of their time The introduction surveys the development of the field as an interdisciplinary project involving literature history classics religion and cultural studies      Reading Women Heidi

Brayman Hackel, Catherine E. Kelly, 2011-08-02 In 1500 as many as 99 out of 100 English women may have been illiterate and girls of all social backgrounds were the objects of purposeful efforts to restrict their access to full literacy Three centuries later more than half of all English and Anglo American women could read and the female reader was emerging as a cultural ideal and a market force While scholars have written extensively about women s reading in the nineteenth and twentieth centuries and about women s writing in the early modern period they have not attended sufficiently to the critical transformation that took place as female readers and their reading assumed significant cultural and economic power Reading Women brings into conversation the latest scholarship by early modernists and early Americanists on the role of gender in the production and consumption of texts during this expansion of female readership Drawing together historians and literary scholars the essays share a concern with local specificity and material culture Removing women from the historically inaccurate frame of exclusively solitary silent reading the authors collectively return their subjects to the activities that so often coincided with reading shopping sewing talking writing performing and collecting With chapters on samplers storytelling testimony and translation the volume expands notions of reading and literacy and it insists upon a rich and varied narrative that crosses disciplinary boundaries and national borders      Voices and Books in the English Renaissance

Jennifer Richards, 2019 Discusses how literary culture in the Renaissance was fundamentally oral and studies a variety of literary soundscapes from the schoolroom to the printing house to explore why and how sound was meaningful to Renaissance writers      Proceedings of International Conference on Information Technology and Applications Abrar Ullah, Sajid Anwar, 2025-06-14 This book includes high quality papers presented at 18th International Conference on Information Technology and Applications ICITA 2024 held in Sydney Australia during October 17 19 2024 The book presents original research work of academics and industry professionals to exchange their knowledge of the state of the art research and development in information technology and applications The topics covered in the book are cloud computing business process engineering machine learning evolutionary computing big data analytics internet of things and cyber physical systems information and knowledge management computer vision and image processing computer graphics and games programming mobile computing ontology engineering software and systems modeling human computer interaction online learning e learning computer networks and web engineering
