Valletutti,Leonie Dummett,1992 There are three important concepts to this practical handbook firstly the authors provide a brief theoretical background of functional competence and demystify the role of cognition in its role of developing within individuals a sense of empowerment or control on a day to day basis     Elementary Classroom Management Carol Simon Weinstein, Andrew J. Mignano, 1993 Stressing the need to build caring supportive relationships with and among students this trusted text offers research based guidance on effective classroom management It addresses current concerns about student motivation and helps prospective and beginning teachers develop a philosophy of classroom management that focuses on building connections with students and creating safe caring classrooms The text profiles five master teachers grades K 1 3 4 and 5 in very different school settings as they create classrooms that are orderly and productive humane and caring The integration of the thinking and the actual management practices of five real elementary teachers into discussions of research based management principles prompts readers to connect theories with actual results Further the text demonstrates how real teachers can adapt to any circumstances physical room constraints curriculum requirements challenging behaviors and still be successful     Comprehensive Multicultural Education Christine I. Bennett, 1995 Booknews Helps practicing and prospective teachers bridge the gap between multicultural concepts and practice in areas such as classroom management instructional strategies and curriculum development Defines multicultural education and treats assimilation and pluralism among various groups in the US learning styles and teaching strategies Offers numerous guidelines and specific lesson plans for a multicultural curriculum This third edition contains new material on European Americans African Americans and Muslims and Arab Americans     Understanding and Teaching Emotionally Disturbed Children and Adolescents Phyllis L.

Newcomer, 2003     Effective Teaching Methods Gary D. Borich, 1996 This text presents practical yet realistic research based teaching practices that have proven effective for engaging students in the learning process managing their classroom and increasing student achievement It not only tells what to do to obtain these results but shows how to obtain them The text explains how individual differences and learner diversity affect student learning needs and classroom management It also explores teaching strategies in depth explaining how to use both direct instructional methods and indirect methods A self report survey instrument is included to help teachers measure concerns about themselves the teaching task and their impact on students     Classroom Management Paul Burden, 2006-01-06 With this innovative book teachers and prospective teachers will gain the skills needed to create a positive classroom community It presents fundamental principles of classroom management and discipline along with ways to involve students in the creation of their learning environment The new third edition reflects a practical realistic view of teaching with the content being organized in a logical sequential order Standards are used to guide the development of new teachers help inservice teachers improve their performance and assess both teacher preparation and teacher performance     Open Education as a Component of Restructuring J. Joyce

McDonald, 1993     Journal of American Indian Education , 1989     Developing the Curriculum Peter F. Oliva, 2005 This highly readable practical text guides students step by step through the process of curriculum development providing a solid foundation of key models and concepts Developing the Curriculum Sixth Edition is full of references to classic and current curriculum writings providing students with a synthesis of historic and contemporary principles and practices associated with creating an effective curriculum In addition the author introduces a model that combines curriculum and instruction and carefully explores issues and challenges at each stage Features Up to date coverage reflects today s best practices and current trends in current development Actual examples are interspersed throughout each chapter to reinforce major chapter content Each chapter contains objectives Website and media references end of chapter questions as well as supplementary exercises providing students the opportunity to critically analyze and review key concepts and strategies Extensive bibliographies enable students to conduct research on chapter topics Chapter 15 Issues in Curriculum Development provides clear and concise analyses accompanied by an easy to use bibliography An Appendix provides teachers with references to ERIC Clearinghouses Regional Educational Laboratories National Research and Development Centers Institute of Education Sciences and curriculum journals Peter F Oliva formerly professor and chairperson at Southern Illinois University Florida International University and Georgia Southern University is author of several textbooks He has taught in high school and at the Universities of Florida Hawaii Mississippi and Indiana State University Books in Series, 1876-1949 R.R. Bowker Company,1982 Integrating English D. Scott Enright,Mary Lou McCloskey,1988 American Book Publishing Record ,2001

Student Apathy James P. Raffini,1988 Some educational practices have contributed to the apathy of students These include a perceptual view of behavior the view that self worth equals achievement norm referenced evaluation and success as ability and effort Four strategies which have the potential for allowing students to experience success from reasonable levels of effort include 1 individual goal setting structures that allow students to define their own criteria for success 2 outcome based instruction and evaluation which make it possible for slower students to experience success without having to compete with faster students 3 attribution retraining which can help apathetic students view failure as a lack of effort rather than a lack of ability and 4 cooperative learning activities which help students realize that personal effort can contribute to group as well as individual goals Educators must confront the discrepancies between the actual and stated goals of education Students have the power to choose how much effort to expend on any task If the goal is to differentiate students according to their ability then slower students will choose to reject school by avoiding effort For those students who are forced to choose between rejecting schooling or rejecting their sense of self worth time is short ABL Competition in Education John Martin Rich,Joseph L. DeVitis,1992
