Spanish Cinema in the Global Context Samuel Amago,2013-09-11 Across a broad spectrum of media markets and national contexts self reflexivity continues to be a favored narrative mode with wide ranging functions In this book Amago argues that in addition to making visible industry and production concerns within the film text reflexive aesthetics have a cartographic function that serves to map the place of a film geographic and cultural within the global cinemascap and thus to bring into sharper relief images of the national Focusing on films in the contemporary Spanish context that in some way reflect back on themselves and the processes of their own production that purposefully blur the distinction between reality and fiction or that draw attention to the various modes of cinematic exhibition and reception Amago proposes ways in which these movies can be employed to understand Spanish national cinemas today as imbedded within a dynamic global system 100 Years of Spanish Cinema Tatjana Pavlović, Inmaculada Alvarez, Rosana Blanco-Cano, Anitra Grisales, Alejandra Osorio, Alejandra Sánchez, 2009-02-23 100 Years of Spanish Cinema provides an in depth look at the most important movements films and directors of twentieth century Spain from the silent era to the present day A glossary of film terms provides definitions of essential technical aesthetic and historical terms Features a visual portfolio illustrating key points of many of the films analyzed Includes a clear concise timeline to help students quickly place films and genres in Spain's political economical and historical contexts Discusses over 20 films including Amor Que Mata Un Chien Andalou Viridiana El Verdugo El Crimen de Cuenca and Pepi Luci Born Out of the Past John Hopewell, 1986 No Marketing Blurb Modes of Representation in Spanish Cinema Jenaro Talens, Santos Zunzunegui Díez, 1998 Isolated by the repressions and censorship of Franco's regime Spanish cinema developed distinctive style and content from the 1930s to the 1970s largely without reference to its international counterparts Through a series of close readings of films made in the Republican period under Franco and more recently under socialism contributors here seek to present a clearer picture of Spanish national cinema Spain on Screen A. Davies, 2011-01-05 A collection of original essays from leading scholars in the field exploring the contemporary debates concerns and controversies ongoing in Spanish film industry culture and scholarship The essays reveal the far reaching shifts that have occurred in the Spanish film scene making essential reading for all interested in European cinema Spanish Cinema Against Itself Steven Marsh, 2020-02-11 An extraordinary philosophical exploration of the political potential and continued political commitment of cinema today An essential read Patricia Keller Associate Professor of Spanish and Comparative Literature Cornell University Spanish Cinema Against Itself maps the evolution of Spanish surrealist and politically committed cinematic traditions from their origins in the 1930s with the work of Luis Buñuel and Salvador Dalí experimentalist Jos Val de Omar and militant documentary filmmaker Carlos Velo through to the contemporary period Framed by film theory this book traces the works of understudied and non canonical Spanish filmmakers producers and film collectives to open up alternate more cosmopolitan and philosophical spaces for film discussion In an age of the post national and the post cinematic Steven Marsh's work challenges conventional historiographical discourse the concept of national cinema and questions of form in cinematic practice In this exhilarating counter history of experimental filmmaking in Spain Steven Marsh takes up the politics of form the trouble with film history and the theoretical potential of haunting discontinuity and absence Spanish Cinema Against Itself is an important intervention in Spanish film studies and indeed in the scholarship on world cinema Rosalind Galt Professor of Film Studies King's College London Global Genres, Local Films Elena Oliete-Aldea, Beatriz Oria, Juan A. Tarancón, 2015-12-17 The acute processes of globalisation at the turn of the century have generated an increased interest in exploring the interactions between the so called global cultural products or trends and their specific local manifestations Even though cross cultural connections are becoming more patent in filmic productions in the last decades cinema per se has always been characterized by its hybrid transnational border crossing nature From its own inception Spanish film production was soon tied to the Hollywood film industry for its subsistence but other film traditions such as those in the Soviet Union France Germany and in particular Italy also determined either directly or indirectly the development of Spanish cinema Global Genres Local Films The Transnational Dimension of Spanish Cinema reaches beyond the limits of the film text and analyses and contextualizes the impact of global film trends and genres on Spanish cinema in order to study how they helped articulate specific national challenges from the conflict between liberalism and tradition in the first decades of the 20th century to the management of the contemporary financial crisis This collection provides the first comprehensive picture of the complex national and supranational forces that have shaped Spanish films revealing the tensions and the intricate dialogue between cross cultural aesthetic and narrative models on the one hand and indigenous traditions on the other as well as the political and historical contingencies these different expressions responded to
