Sun Records Martin Hawkins,1987      It's About Time Alex Duthie,2012-02-29 Its About Time presents an introduction to theoretical physics as well as challenges to some of the concepts put forward by theoretical physicists of our time These scientists have presented such concepts in countless public lectures highlights of which are compiled here along with a variety of historical data such as the history of earth time Also included are short biographies of physicists who have contributed significantly to our knowledge base To help foster understanding of the related astronomical matters Its About Time includes technical information relating to Newton and Keplers laws Technical discussions are appended to the end of each relevant chapter Furthermore it offers a credible and significant challenge to Einsteins theories and to the current thinking on time dilation Finally the study outlines some procedural guidelines for young physicists and suggests how academic institutions can become custodians of a central depository of reference data facilitating future physicists into more efficient and fruitful endeavors This study offers no challenge to mathematics which is a pure and exact science When a physicist is able to have the mathematics represent natural phenomena then mathematics becomes a necessary tool for our simplified understanding of nature Eventually all of nature will be reduced to mathematical terms The challenge presented here is to theoretical mathematics with no proven relationship to natural phenomena      Periodic Fluctuations in Fluxes of Local Radio-emission Sources of the Sun G. B. Gelfreykh,1970 Fluctuations of solar radio emission at 4 cm were investigated using the radio interferometer with the small base A construction of autocorrelation functions permits the detection of fluctuations with the periods of 10 to 15 min and more and amplitude up to 0.5 to 0.7 percent of the undisturbed sun It is shown that the periodic fluctuations of the flux are connected with separate local sources These fluctuations are assumed to be due to proper oscillations of a coronal condensation a condensed plasma restricted by the magnetic field of the force lines rope in a sunspot group Author      Chemoinformatics Approaches to Structure- and Ligand-Based Drug Design Adriano D. Andricopulo,Leonardo L. G. Ferreira,2019-02-05 Chemoinformatics is paramount to current drug discovery Structure and ligand based drug design strategies have been used to uncover hidden patterns in large amounts of data and to disclose the molecular aspects underlying ligand receptor interactions This Research Topic aims to share with a broad audience the most recent trends in the use of chemoinformatics in drug design To that end experts in all areas of drug discovery have made their knowledge available through a series of articles that report state of the art approaches Readers are provided with outstanding contributions focusing on a wide variety of topics which will be of great value to those interested in the many different and exciting facets of drug design      Australian Languages Claire Bower,Harold James Koch,2004-01-01 This book addresses controversial issues in the application of the comparative method to the languages of Australia which have recently come to international prominence Are these languages different in ways that challenge the fundamental assumptions of historical linguistics Can subgrouping be successfully undertaken using the Comparative

Method Is the genetic construct of a far flung Pama Nyungan language family supportable by classic methods of reconstruction Contrary to increasingly established views of the Australian scene this book makes a major contribution to the demonstration that traditional methods can indeed be applied to these languages These studies introduced by chapters on subgrouping methodology and the history of Australian linguistic classification rigorously apply the comparative method to establishing subgroups among Australian languages and justifying the phonology of Proto Pama Nyungan Individual chapters can profitably be read either for their contribution to Australian linguistic prehistory or as case studies in the application of the comparative method Contributions by B Alpher B Baker C Bowern C Bowern G Breen L Campbell I Green L Hercus H Koch P McConvell L Miceli G O Grady J Simpson L Hercus The Literary Impact of The Golden Bough John B
