Ecological Economic and Socio Ecological Strategies for Forest Conservation Felix Fuders, Pablo J.

Donoso, 2020-05-13 This book proposes strategies for improving the resilience and conservation of temperate forests in South America such that these forests can provide ecosystem services in a sustainable way. As such it contributes to the design of a resilient human forest model that takes into account the multiculturalism of local communities in many cases including aspects of ecological economics development economics and territorial development planning that are related to indigenous peoples or first nations. Further it provides proposals for public and territorial policies that improve the state of conservation of native forests and forest ecosystems based on a critical analysis of the economic factors that lead to the degradation of forest ecosystems in South America today. This edition was conceived by members of the Transdisciplinary Research Center for Social and Ecological Strategies for Sustainable Forest Management in South America at the Universidad Austral de Chile. It includes contributions by distinguished researchers from around the world combining the fields of economics ecology biology anthropology sociology and statistics. It is not however simply a collection of works written by authors from different disciplines but rather each chapter is in itself transdisciplinary. This approach makes the book a unique contribution to enhancing social managerial and political approaches to forestry management helping to protect forest ecosystem services and make them more sustainable. This in turn will benefit local communities and society as a whole by reducing the negative externalities of forestry management and enhancing future opportunities Blueprint for Going Green Gerald P.

McCarthy, 2024-03-01 How one organization took on industrial pollution and the lessons for our new century. In 1977 one forward thinking judge took an ecological disaster the poisoning of the James River by Allied Chemical and turned it into a great environmental protection legacy. The $8 million payment made by Allied would go on to fund the game changing Virginia Environmental Endowment Blueprint for Going Green provides an insider's account of the remarkable results of this landmark ruling and the foundation it spawned. Over the following decades the VEE helped to grow the fledgling environmental movement in Virginia into a powerful force for protecting the state's water quality and conserving its landscape. This inspiring story reveals how a small group can make a profound difference by engaging in public policy work funding science to advance public policy and helping to build a lasting and effective citizen led environmental movement. Finalist for the Southern Environmental Law Center's Phillip D Reed Environmental Writing Award Economic Abstracts, 1972 Review of abstracts on economics finance trade industry foreign aid management marketing labour The Economics of Pollution: Methods and issues. Role of industries Michael Gerrard,1979      Journal of Economic Literature ,1973      Economics and the Environment Terry Lee Anderson,1990 From the back cover Economics and the environment implausible bedfellows at the best of times However the world runs of well understood principles and environmentalists goals must translate into workable economic solutions Using the building blocks of free market prices private property rights and a justice system that protects such rights the contributors to this unique volume demonstrate how the economics of the market can be used to attain ecologically sound environmental goals efficiently and effectively Free enterprise is not the cause of environmental problems but it can be part of the solution There is no intrinsic conflict between the market and the environment Economics and the Environment explores the idea that a reconciliation between economics and ecology is not only possible but desirable as well      Economics of Environmental Conservation Clement Allan Tisdell,1991 Hardbound The study of the relationship between economic systems and ecological and environmental ones is an important one which affects all living organisms and is becoming increasingly recognized in policy circles worldwide The more this relationship between economics and ecology is studied the more aware we become that a great deal of our existing knowledge is imperfect and gaps need to be filled This book specifies economic means for improved management of biological resources with their respective life support systems and takes into account environmental issues Special attention is given to the consequences of economic growth and development on resource conservation and policies such as those arising from the World Conservation Strategy and the Brundtland Report The coverage in this volume is both innovative modern and in a semantical sense non technical based on the interdependence between economic social and ecological systems      The Political Economy of Environmental Protection Horst Siebert,Ariane Berthoin Antal,1979      Selective Management Bibliography Georges Sandeau,1975      Environmental Management and Politics Lyle Sumsik,1973      Policy Review ,1982      National Agricultural Library Catalog National Agricultural Library (U.S.),1972      The Quarterly Journal of Economics Charles Franklin Dunbar,Frank William Taussig,Abbott Payson Usher,Alvin Harvey Hansen,William Leonard Crum,Edward Chamberlin,Arthur Eli Monroe,1973 Vols 1-22 include the section Recent publications upon economics      International Labour Documentation ,1980-12      Pollution, Congestion, and Nuisance Daniel T.
