Robin Hadaway

Sukuma Tanzania:

Sukuma Labor Songs from Western Tanzania Frank Gunderson, 2010-06-15 This volume is an interpretive analysis of a collection of 335 song texts treated as primary historical sources. The collection highlights the cultural practices that link music with labor in Sukuma communities in northwestern Tanzania. These linkages are evident in the music of the elephant snake and porcupine hunting associations that flourished in the precolonial epoch in the nineteenth century regional and long distance porter associations and in the farmer associations that have proliferated since the beginning of the twentieth century. Acting primarily as an interpretive editor, the author collaborated with several Tanzanian scholars and translators towards fine tuning the translation of these texts into English and gathered testimonies in order to create succinct interpretive statements about the songs. The African Music Section of the Society for Ethnomusicology is pleased to announce that the 2012 Kwabena Nketia Book Prize has been awarded to Frank Gunderson for his book Sukuma Labor Songs from Western Tanzania: We Never Sleep We Dream of Farming published by Brill in 2010. Grounded in nearly twenty years of ethnographic research, we congratulate Professor Gunderson for this excellent publication in African music studies. "I Am Just a Sukuma" Frans Jozef Servaas Wijsen, 2002 Contents 1 Culture and identity among the Sukuma 2 Origin and growth of Sukuma identity 3 The intrusions of colonialism 4 The hopes and frustrations of socialist ideology 5 The Sukuma and the ideology of a free market 6 Sukuma identity and modernization The Muslim Majority Robin Hadaway, 2021-09-15 More than 70 percent of Muslims worldwide practice folk Islam, a syncretistic mix of theologically orthodox Islam and traditional religious beliefs and practices. The Muslim Majority is unlike many published works on evangelism to Muslims which argue for either apologetic or contextualized bridge approaches. These approaches are often ineffective in reaching adherents of popular Islam. Instead, author and missiologist Robin Hadaway outlines a contextual approach that addresses the unique perspective of popular Islam. Hadaway explains the differences between folk Islam and orthodox Islam and explores best practices for reaching the vast majority of Muslims with the gospel of Jesus Christ. Towards an African Narrative Theology Joseph Healey, 1996 Reflects what traditional proverbs used in Christian catechetical, liturgical and ritual contexts reveal about Tanzanian appropriations of and interpretations of Christianity. Musical Labor Associations in Sukumaland, Tanzania Frank D. Gunderson, 1999 Social Stratification and the Diffusion of Innovations Among the Sukuma of Tanzania Gertrud Schanne-Raab, 1977 Originally presented as the author's thesis, U of Colorado 1974. An Economic History of Sukumaland, Tanzania, to 1964: Field Notes and Analysis Peter F. M. McLoughlin, 1972 Tanzania Philip Briggs, 2002 Written by Africa expert Philip Briggs and specializing in wildlife viewing opportunities, this well established guide has the latest information on overland and balloon safaris and all the national parks. The main attractions of the Serengeti, Ngorongoro Crater, Lake Victoria and Tanganyika and other prime regions for travelers are all covered in depth with details of the big cats, numerous species of antelope and other wildlife that can be expected to be seen on safari.
