Wild Oats and Other Works of James Oppenheim James Oppenheim, Sweet Edith Just seventeen seventeen years in the heart of the deep city and yet a simple and innocent and quiet life Public school shorthand school the job in the clothing business her few friends her two brothers her ailing mother She had had a taste of theater she had gone to night school she sometimes attended a lecture or a meeting of the people at Cooper Union But thus far though the wild city whirled like a cyclone about her with its Broadway its Bowery its crime and commerce its toil and struggle and tragicomedy of millions of living people Edith had lived in the quiet center of the storm a life immured innocent and had grown naturally as flower unfolding from bud She was at the perilous age From unconscious childhood she had emerged and found that she too was a miracle a human being capable of the depths and heights of life packed with all sweet possibilities All the world was new a wonder was everywhere Romance lurked in familiar corners transfiguring them Anything might break open in her heart now and sweep her with the passions that drive a life to divine heights or ruin it Sweet Edith There she was that young Spring morning living breathing hurrying through the crowds of children innocent as they fresh as a new wild rose light on her feet and full of the yearning fire of the blue Can t you see her her little blue hat stuck with a black feather her bending blue eyed face her lithe little body gracefully gliding through the cool air Surely she was made for happiness for motherhood and home and all the quiet round of human life She turned into shining Grand Street she walked down the street to a tall loft building entered climbed a flight of stairs and pushed open a door into the factory There in twilight were the garment makers stitching cutting and crazily racing the machines She passed through the hubbub to the front opened a door of a partition and stepped into the offices There were four of these partitioned from each other and connected by doors The center one was the show room with large oak table and racks Two young men were chatting at the open window and gazing down at the street Edith did not notice them but passed into the adjoining office took off hat and coat opened the window pulled the cover from the typewriter and set to work busily cleaning the machine The hum of the young men s voices reached her but she paid no heed to their words The young men were chatting amiably One of them was Frank Lasser the new traveling salesman territory Pennsylvania a smartly dressed fellow almost insolently handsome He had large black eyes a little brown mustache and black hair smoothly plastered on a high forehead His chin was weak He spoke volubly and cynically His companion was Jonas Zug salesman for New York State young but almost bald As they talked trade and territory a barrel organ in the street

below loosed a wild waltz music The young men leaned out of the window Four little school girls had handed their books to others and were dancing in the center of an absorbed circle of people They executed not a waltz but a wild street dance passionate swift their whole bodies playing rhythmically One forgot tattered shoes and torn aprons and thin cheeks so wild a magic was wrought by the dance All the fresh glory of the morning all the yearning and fire of the sun and the air seemed to pulse through the world from them      The Sun: Ruler, Fire, Light, and Life of the Planetary System Richard Anthony Proctor,1872      Proceedings of the American Association for the Advancement of Science American Association for the Advancement of Science,1881      Transactions of the Iowa State Horticultural Society for ... ,1886      The Oxford anthology of American literature ,1938      English Botany, Or, Coloured Figures of British Plants James Sowerby,1873      The Garden ,1896      Journal of Horticulture and Practical Gardening ,1877      The Nature Handbook Ernest H. Williams Jr.,2005-05-19 Nature is full of fascinating stories stories that attract our attention at a young age and keep us amazed throughout our entire lives The need to understand nature draws us back to its simple beauty again and again yet underneath this simplicity lies a complex web of associations and patterns The Nature Handbook does what no other field guide does explores and explains nature through these connecting patterns revealing them to the many different types of nature lovers All naturalists from birders to gardeners hikers to environmentalists wildflower enthusiasts to butterflyers will appreciate the different approach of the Handbook even those whose interest in the natural world is just beginning to develop Naturalists who are already well versed in one group of organisms birders for example will find new explanations and patterns for their favorite group as well as new patterns all around them that they had previously overlooked Observations in the Handbook are arranged in the three main sections of plants animals and habitats These sections are then connected through discussions of the relationship of size and shape adaptations distribution patterns behavior and diversity of life Since the emphasis is on patterns rather than individual species each chapter has cross references to related topics For example tree related topics such as leaf shape treelines and fall colors are all discussed in different chapters even though they are related Leaf shape is associated with trees as organisms and therefore is in Chapter 2 Trees treelines are most associated with mountains so their description is in Chapter 8 Mountains fall colors apply more broadly to forests than to individual trees and they are discussed in Chapter 9 Forests Approximately 500 color photographs help make the more than 200 patterns apparent and recognizable for readers and each pattern is accompanied by a detailed description and a brief list of sources The book is designed to invite browsing and readers will gain a rich ecological perspective and insight Curiosity about the world around us is a basis for human learning The Nature Handbook serves to aid all nature lovers in their quest for understanding the many stories that our living world provides      American Farmer ,1873 4th ser v 1 4 includes the Proceedings of the 1st 11th annual meetings 1848 58 of the Maryland State Agricultural Society      Godey's Lady's Book ,1873      *Diplomatic and Consular Reports.
