foodieness is taken up in schools by first exploring how the foodscape at school is shaped by policy and media sources The book then examines how foodieness is taken up by schools with different SES profiles by showing how food moves through the school day Asking critical questions on class and poverty that are often overlooked this book will be of interest to researchers academics and students working on food issues related to teaching food policy and schools in the fields of education sociology and food studies It should also be of interest to policymakers parents and teachers Museums, Identity and Family Practices Theano Moussouri,2024-10-07 Museums Identity and Family Practices locates museum participation and meaning making in the realm of everyday family practices which are central to understanding the role museums play in family social life Drawing on a substantial amount of data from a wide range of sources Moussouri discusses the importance of understanding how family practices are enacted across settings and how the arena of the museum can facilitate certain family practices and impede others Developing and theorising key concepts the book elucidates the key research themes including everyday family practice meaning making and the structural characteristics of museums as arenas for the family visit activity The analysis is rooted in a dialectical theoretical framework specifically developed to bridge the macrolevel social order or the arena of the museum and microlevel family practices Museums Identity and Family Practices offers a novel and holistic approach to studying contemporary families and as such is key reading for scholars and students of museum and heritage studies family studies visitor studies cultural studies education sociology and anthropology Museum and heritage professionals working with families in different communities around the world will also find this book relevant to their practice The Open Access version of this book available at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4 0 license
