The Arts In Boston:

The Invention of the American Art Museum Kathleen Curran, 2016-07-01 American art museums share a mission and format that differ from those of their European counterparts which often have origins in aristocratic collections This groundbreaking work recounts the fascinating story of the invention of the modern American art museum starting with its roots in the 1870s in the craft museum type which was based on London's South Kensington now the Victoria and Albert Museum At the turn of the twentieth century American planners grew enthusiastic about a new type of museum and presentation that was developed in Northern Europe particularly in Germany Switzerland and Scandinavia Called Kulturgeschichte cultural history museums they were evocative displays of regional history American trustees museum directors and curators found that the Kulturgeschichte approach offered a variety of transformational options in planning museums classifying and displaying objects and broadening collecting categories including American art and the decorative arts Leading institutions including the Museum of Fine Arts Boston and the Metropolitan Museum of Art in New York adopted and developed crucial aspects of the Kulturgeschichte model By the 1930s such museum plans and exhibition techniques had become standard practice at museums across the country Portfolio of Some Recent Public Art in Boston Institute of Contemporary Art (Boston, Mass.), 1972* The Art of the Ancient Near East in Boston Edward Lee B. Marshall, 2017-07-05 Sculpture and the Museum is the first in depth examination of the varying roles and meanings assigned to sculpture in museums and galleries during the modern period from neo classical to contemporary art practice It considers a rich array of curatorial strategies and settings in order to examine the many reasons why sculpture has enjoyed a position of such considerable importance and complexity within the institutional framework of the museum and how changes to the museum have altered in turn the ways that we perceive the sculpture within it In particular the contributors consider the complex issue of how best to display sculpture across different periods and according to varying curatorial philosophies Sculptors discussed include Canova Rodin Henry Moore Flaxman and contemporary artists such as Rebecca Horn Rachel Whiteread Mark Dion and Olafur Eliasson with a variety of museums in America Canada and Europe presented as case studies Underlying all of these discussions is a concern to chart the critical importance of the acquisition placement and display of sculpture in museums and to explore the importance of sculptures as a forum for the expression of programmatic statements of power prestige and the museum's own sense of itself in relation to its audiences and its broader institutional aspirations
