Loofa Love

Showers are both a place and an activity. They are where people wake themselves up to begin the day anew or where they wash the sweat and grime of a rough day off their bodies. Showers are an essential part of basic health and hygiene. With that comes a countless array of tools for proper cleanliness, but none come quite as close as the loofa to pure perfection. Based on cleaning ability, personal comfort, and usability, the loofa is the most effective and efficient body cleaning implement in any shower caddy.

Personal comfort is an admittedly subjective quality for anyone. However, the audience has a general understanding of a comfort range. Where scrubby cloths are harsh and even painful to more sensitive skin, other washing implements feel as though they are only pushing grime around the epidermis. The loofa succeeds in its ability to create a rich lather for a smooth, satisfying feeling while still maintaining an effective cleaning ability, ensuring that a bather feels good both during and after usage.

While humble in its roots, the loofa is an ideal cleaning tool that epitomizes cleaning ability, comfort, and ease of use into one amazing package. As bathing has only grown in importance in relation to hygiene and health, technology has maintained steady in the tools involved with the process. While the loofa may see some evolution in form at some point in the future, the tool's current iteration suggests a superior form that requires no true improvement.

Vilardi, Mary K. Chang, 2009-11-10 Written by the team at Bard College's Institute for Writing and Thinking this book is designed to provide practical guidance regarding the challenges and potential of writing based teaching and suggestions for how to adapt the practices to particular classroom situations The contributors share candid first hand accounts of what it is like to make writing central to teaching in secondary schools and colleges As teachers of literature composition poetry mathematics anthropology and education they offer philosophical and theoretical reflections practical guidance and personal stories about how to help students become better more fluent writers close readers and reflective thinkers This book will be of interest to writing center directors for what it says about how to do collaborative learning and revision and seeing writing as a way to build community and to writing teachers for how it demystifies freewriting focused freewriting and dialectical notebooks Death Education in the Writing Classroom Jeffrey Berman, 2017-03-02 Death is often encountered in English courses Hamlet's death celebrity death death from the terrorist attacks on 9/11 but students rarely have the opportunity to write about their own experiences with death In Death Education in the Writing Classroom Jeffrey Berman shows how college students can write safely about dying death and bereavement The book is based on an undergraduate course on love and loss that Berman taught at the University at Albany in 2008 Part 1 Diaries is organized around Berman's diary entries written immediately after each class These entries provide a week by week glimpse of class discussions highlighting his students' writings and their developing bonds with classmates and teacher Part 2 Breakthroughs focuses on several students' important educational and psychological discoveries in their understanding of love and loss The student writings touch on many aspects of death education including disenfranchised grief The book explores how students write about not only mourning and loss but also depression cutting and abortion topics that occupy the ambiguous border of death in life Death Education in the Writing Classroom is the first book to demonstrate how love and loss can be taught in a college writing class and the first to describe the week by week changes in students' cognitive and affective responses to death This interdisciplinary book will be of interest to writing teachers students clinicians and bereavement counselors Landmark

Essays on Writing Across the Curriculum Charles Bazerman, David R. Russell, 2020-11-25 Rhetoric as a general teaching while preaching locality of action and guidelines for handling that locality has tended from the beginning to serve as a universality. It has offered a generalized techne with only limited categories appropriate for all discursive situations at least for those that were not excluded from the realm of rhetoric. Nonetheless from its beginnings rhetoric limited its interests to certain activity fields such as law, government, religion, and most important, the educators of leaders in these activity fields. This collection presents landmarks showing where the Writing Across the Curriculum (WAC) and Writing in the Disciplines (WID) movements have gone. They have opened up a number of prospects that were impossible to see when rhetoric and composition confined their gaze to relatively few discursive activities. This suggests that the rhetorical landscape is becoming more complex and interesting as well as more responsive to life in the complex differentiated societies that have emerged in the last few centuries. This volume will reveal to scholars and researchers a range of possibilities for the study of disciplinary discourse and its teaching and suggest to them new prospects for the future and for the better. Diasporic Women's Writing of the Black Atlantic Emilia María Durán-Almaraz, Esther Álvarez López, 2013-10-30 This book brings together a complete set of approaches to works by female authors that articulate the black Atlantic in relation to the interplay of race, class, and gender. The chapters provide the grounds to engender a more complex understanding of the scattered geographies of the African diaspora in the Atlantic basin. The variety of approaches displayed bears witness to the vitality of a field that over the years has become a diasporic formation itself as it incorporates critical insights and theoretical frameworks from multiple disciplines in the social sciences and the humanities, thus exposing the manifold character of black diasporic interconnections within and beyond the Atlantic. Focusing on a wide array of contemporary literary and performance texts by women writers and performers from diverse locations including the Caribbean, Canada, Africa, the US, and the UK, chapters visit genres such as performance art, the novel, science fiction, short stories, and music. For these purposes, the volume is organized around two significant dimensions of diasporas: on the one hand, the material, corporeal, and spatial locations where those displacements associated with travel and exile occur; and on the other, the fluid environments and networks that connect distant places, cultures, and times. This collection explores the ways in which women of African descent shape the cultures and histories in the modern colonial and postcolonial Atlantic worlds. An Essay in Aid of a Grammar of Assent John Henry Newman, 1887 Boswell's Life of Johnson, including Boswell's Journal of a tour to the Hebrides and Johnson's Diary of a journey into North Wales. Ed. by G.B.
