

SOMETHING NEW UNDER THE SUN

AN ENVIRONMENTAL HISTORY OF THE TWENTIETH-CENTURY WORLD

J. R. McNEILL

Something New Under The Sun

Bob Johnson

Something New Under The Sun:

Something New Under the Sun J. R. McNeill, 2001-04-17 One of those rare books that is both sweeping and specific, scholarly and readable. What makes the book stand out is its wealth of historical detail. Elizabeth Kolbert, The New Yorker. The history of the twentieth century is most often told through its world wars, the rise and fall of communism, or its economic upheavals. In his startling book, J. R. McNeill gives us our first general account of what may prove to be the most significant dimension of the twentieth century: its environmental history. To a degree unprecedented in human history, we have refashioned the earth's air, water, and soil, and the biosphere of which we are a part. Based on exhaustive research, McNeill's story is a compelling blend of anecdotes, data, and shrewd analysis; never preaching, it is our definitive account. This is a volume in The Global Century Series, general editor Paul Kennedy. Sharing God's Planet Claire Foster, 2005 This report explores the causes and consequences of human damage to the environment and suggests how Christians can respond. A Companion to Global Environmental History J. R. McNeill, Erin Stewart Mauldin, 2015-05-04 The Companion to Global Environmental History offers multiple points of entry into the history and historiography of this dynamic and fast-growing field to provide an essential road map to past developments, current controversies, and future developments for specialists and newcomers alike. Combines temporal, geographic, thematic, and contextual approaches from prehistory to the present day. Explores environmental thought and action around the world to give readers a cultural, intellectual, and political context for engagement with the environment in modern times. Brings together environmental historians from around the world, including scholars from South Africa, Brazil, Germany, and China. State of the World 2015 The Worldwatch Institute, 2015-04-13 We think we understand environmental damage: pollution, water scarcity, a warming world. But these problems are just the tip of the iceberg. Food insecurity, financial assets drained of value, and a rapid rise in diseases of animal origin are among the underreported consequences of an unsustainable global system. In this volume, experts explore these hidden threats along with the central question of how we can develop resilience to these and other shocks. Mega-Dams in World Literature Margaret Ziolkowski, 2024-04-15 Mega Dams in World Literature reveals the varied effects of large dams on people and their environments as expressed in literary works focusing on the shifting attitudes toward large dams that emerged over the course of the twentieth century. Margaret Ziolkowski covers the enthusiasm for large dam construction that took place during the mid-twentieth-century heyday of mega dams; the increasing number of people displaced by dams; the troubling environmental effects they incur; and the types of destruction and protest to which they may be subject. Using North American, Native American, Russian, Egyptian, Indian, and Chinese novels and poems, Ziolkowski explores the supposed progress that these structures bring. The book asks how the human urge to exploit and control waterways has affected our relationships to nature and the environment and argues that the high modernism of the twentieth century, along with its preoccupation with development, casts the hydroelectric dam as a central symbol of domination over nature and the power of the nation state Beyond examining the exultation of large dams as symbols of progress Mega Dams in World Literature takes a broad international and cultural approach that humanizes and personalizes the major issues associated with large dams through nuanced analyses paying particular attention to issues engendered by high modernism and settler colonialism Both general and specialist readers interested in human environment relationships will enjoy this prescient book

Carbon Nation Bob Johnson, 2017-07-15 Fossil fuels don't simply impact our ability to commute to and from work They condition our sensory lives our erotic experiences and our aesthetics they structure what we assume to be normal and healthy and they prop up a distinctly modern bargain with nature that allows populations and economies to grow wildly beyond the older and more clearly understood limits of the organic economy Carbon Nation ranges across film and literary studies ecology politics journalism and art history to chart the course by which prehistoric carbon calories entered into the American economy and body It reveals how fossil fuels remade our ways of being knowing and sensing in the world while examining how different classes races sexes and conditions learned to embrace and navigate the material manifestations and cultural potential of these new prehistoric carbons The ecological roots of modern America are introduced in the first half of the book where the author shows how fossil fuels revolutionized the nation's material wealth and carrying capacity The book then demonstrates how this eager embrace of fossil fuels went hand in hand with both a deliberate and an unconscious suppression of that dependency across social spatial symbolic and psychic domains In the works of Eugene O'Neill Upton Sinclair Sherwood Anderson and Stephen Crane the author reveals how Americans' material dependencies on prehistoric carbon were systematically buried within modernist narratives of progress consumption and unbridled growth while in films like Charlie Chaplin's Modern Times and George Stevens's Giant he uncovers cinematic expressions of our own deep seated anxieties about living in a dizzying new world wrought by fossil fuels Any discussion of fossil fuels must go beyond energy policy and technology In Carbon Nation Bob Johnson reminds us that what we take to be natural in the modern world is in fact historical and that our history and culture arise from this relatively recent embrace of the coal mine the stoke hole and the oil derrick

Outing and the Wheelman, 1897 Modern Prophets and Other Sketches Pansy, Faye Huntington, 1874 Good Housekeeping Magazine, 1886 Unitarian Review and Religious Magazine Charles Lowe, Henry Wilder Foote, John Hopkins Morison, Henry H. Barber, James De Normandie, Joseph Henry Allen, 1889 The Ladies' Repository, 1871 Literary News Frederick Leyboldt, 1896 American Homoeopathist, 1879 Farmers' Guide, 1897 Vick's Magazine, 1890 The Shorthand Review, 1892 New Peterson Magazine, 1886 The Medical Fortnightly, 1898 Publishers' Weekly, 1875 Good Housekeeping, 1890
