Beyond audiovisual: novel multisensory stimulation techniques and their applications

Justyna Świdrak,Grzegorz Pochwatko,Orestis Georgiou,Sofia Seinfeld,Marta Matamala-Gomez,2024-10-03 Immersive virtual reality technology has been developing extremely dynamically in the last decade One of the reasons is the impressive progress in 3D graphics and the increasing accessibility of hardware with sufficient computational power to smoothly render high quality 3D environments Virtual reality overwhelms the user by replacing the physical world with a computer generated 3D scenario Its power lies in embodied complex and vivid scenarios rich in context and dynamic engagement of the sensorimotor system which provokes more naturalistic behavioural and physiological responses than abstract stimuli

Congruent multisensory stimulation builds virtual experience and makes us forget about the real world Strong presence and embodiment illusions can cause deep cognitive affective and behavioural changes leading to enhanced learning perspective taking and treatments Some types of sensory input have received much more attention than others This includes mainly visual and auditory cues but also to some extent nociception and touch However the human sensory system is much richer and more complex and includes many other senses such as smell and taste but also thermoception interoception equilibrioception and others Most VR experiences are built on rich audiovisual cues since these two modalities allow us to perceive the virtual world and interact with it For example touch although extremely important is often represented in a reductionist form and other modalities such as the sense of smell or thermoception are completely ignored

Song from the Forest Louis Sarno,2015-04-07 As a young man American Louis Sarno heard a song on the radio that gripped his imagination With some funding from musician Brian Eno he followed the mysterious sounds all the way to the Central African rain forest and found their source with the Bayaka Pygmies a tribe of hunters and gatherers Nothing could have prepared him for life among the Pygmies a people legendary for their short stature and musical wealth Sarno never left Considered outwardly lazy

by some scrounging and near alcoholic the Pygmies Sarno met had seemingly lost all desire to hunt or make music Only after he had lived with them for some time on a diet of tadpoles was he allowed to join them in the rain forest where they still in relative harmony with nature There Sarno experienced the extraordinary beauty and spiritual sophistication of their culture and the supreme importance of music as the principal means by which they communicate with the rain forest and its magical spirits Over the decades Sarno has recorded more than 1 000 hours of unique Bayaka music He is a fully accepted member of the Bayaka society and married a Bayaka woman Permanently changed by his experience and captivated by a Bayaka culture In Song from the Forest Sarno has chronicled his attempt to protect the fragile existence of the Pygmies in an increasingly destructive world Once when his son Samedi became seriously ill and Sarno feared for his life he held his son in his arms through a frightful night and made him a promise If you get through this one day I ll show you the world I come from Now the time has come to fulfill his promise In a new major documentary film Sarno tells the story of the Bayaka as he travels with Samedi from the African rain forest to another jungle one of concrete glass and asphalt New York City Together they meet Louis family and old friends including his closest friend from college Jim Jarmusch Carried by the contrasts between rainforest and urban America and a fascinating soundtrack Louis and Samedi s stories are interwoven to form a touching portrait of an extraordinary man and his son SONG FROM THE FOREST is a modern epic film set between rainforest and skyscrapers
