Postcolonial Animalities Suvadip Sinha, Amit Baishya, 2019-09-02 Postcolonial Animalities co edited by Suvadip Sinha and Amit R Baishya brings together ten essays to consider the interfaces between human and animal and the concrete presence of animals in postcolonial cultural production This edited collection critiques monohumanist conceptions of the human and considers the co constitutiveness of imaginaries of the human with grammars of animality One of the central contributions of this volume is to decolonize existing conceptualizations of the human animal relationship and to consider the material representation of animals within the realm of colonial and postcolonial cultural production from the perspective of ethical alterity and alternative narratives of anticolonial and postcolonial politics The volume also explores entanglements of race and species in colonial and neocolonial frameworks without transforming such inquiries into a zero sum game that privileges one category over another The essays in the volume focusing on multiple geographical locations ranging from South Asia Southeast Asia post Ottoman Turkey the Caribbean Australia South Africa and Palestine Israel historicizes and understands multispecies interspecies and transspecies encounters affiliations and connections in and through their localized dimensions and studies human animal encounters in their varied and complex affective relationalities Through such inquiries the volume considers how modes of representing animals including located forms of anthropomorphism and zoomorphism help us think with and be with different animals

The Two-in-one Rod Michalko, 1999 When Rod Michalko's sight finally became so limited that he no longer felt safe on busy city streets or traveling alone he began a search for a guide The Two in One is his account of how his search ended with Smokie a guide dog and a dramatically different sense of blindness Few people who regularly encountered Michalko in his neighborhood shops and cafes realized that he was technically blind like many people with physical disabilities he had found ways of compensating for his impairment Those who knew about his condition thought of him as a fully realized person who just happened to be blind He thought so himself Until Smokie changed all that In this often moving always compelling meditation on his relationship with Smokie Michalko probes into what it means to be at home with blindness Smokie makes no judgment about Michalko's lack of sight it simply is the condition within which they work together Their partnership thus allows Michalko to step outside of the conventional and even enlightened understanding of blindness he becomes not simply resigned to it but able to embrace it as an essential part of his being in the world Drawing on his training as a sociologist and his experience as a disabled person Michalko joins a still small circle of scholars who examine disability from the inside More rare still and what will resonate with most readers is Michalko's remarkable portrayal of Smokie avoiding sentimentality and pathos it is a deeply affectionate yet restrained and nuanced appreciation of his behavior and personality From their first meeting at the dog guide training school Smokie springs to life in these pages as a highly competent sure footed take charge full speed ahead indispensable partner Sighties are always in awe watching them work Michalko has even persuaded some of them that the Smokester can locate street addresses but has a little difficulty with odd numbers Readers of The Two in One can easily imagine Rod and Smokie sharing the joke as they continue on their way Author note Rod Michalko is Adjunct Professor of Sociology Department of Anthropology and Sociology St Francis Xavier University

What Is Psychoanalysis? Barnaby B Barratt, 2013-05-20 2020 American Board Academy of Psychoanalysis ABAPsa book award winner In a radically powerful interpretation of the human condition this book redefines the discipline of psychoanalysis by examining its fundamental assumptions about the unconscious mind the nature of personal history our sexualities and the significance of the Oedipus Complex With striking originality Barratt explains the psychoanalytic way of exploring our inner realities and criticizes many of the schools of psychoanalytic psychotherapy that emerged and prospered during the 20th century In 1912 Sigmund Freud formed a Secret Committee charged with the task of protecting and advancing his discoveries In this book Barratt argues both that this was a major mistake making the discipline more like a religious organization than a science and that this continues to infuse psychoanalytic institutes today What is Psychoanalysis takes each of the four fundamental concepts that Freud himself said were the cornerstones of his science of healing and offers a fresh and detailed re examination of their contemporary importance Barratt s analysis demonstrates how the profound work as well as the playfulness of psychoanalysis provides us with a critique of the ideologies that support oppression and exploitation on the social level It will be of interest to advanced students of clinical psychology or philosophy as well as psychoanalysts and psychotherapists

Animal Victims in Modern Fiction Marian Louise Scholtmeijer, 1993 The Darwinian revolution profoundly altered society s conception of animals Scholtmeijer explores the ways in which modern literature has reflected this change in its attempts to deal with the reality of the autonomous animal and the animal victim She considers works of fiction dealing with animal victims in the wild and in urban settings how they are used to represent human sexual dilemmas and how the hopes and disillusionments invested in myth generate animal victims Annotation copyright by Book News Inc Portland OR

The Prefrontal Cortex Joaquin M. Fuster, 1997 Animal Symbolism in Hofmannsthal's Works Helen Frink, 1987 This study examines recurring animal images in Hofmannsthal s major works and some fragments In his early M rchen der 672 Nacht and in Reitergeschichte animals confront man with evidence of his own physicality symbolizing what Hofmannsthal called Die Unentrinnbarkeit des Lebens Hunting imagery in Die Frau im Fenster the unfinished Knabengeschichte and Andreas provides insight into problematical relationships between men and women The analysis of animal torture in Das kleine Welttheater Andreas and Der Turm exposes deep rooted conflicts between fathers and sons

The Legal Studies Forum, 1999 Geriatrics and Gerontology of the Dog and Cat Johnny D. Hoskins, 2004 This groundbreaking reference is the first and only comprehensive book to address the needs of older dogs and cats providing the veterinary clinician veterinary student and animal health technician with health related information that is clinically relevant and quickly retrievable in a simple format It offers a complete and practical review of the causes incidence clinical features diagnosis and management of both common and uncommon problems associated with the aging process and acquired illness Each chapter offers tips on the physical examination of that body system and provides quick reference tables for guidance on diagnosis and treatment Because of the increased health problems in aging dogs and cats and the ardent attachment of the pet owner veterinarians need to know more about aging so they may delay or minimize the progressive deterioration of aging and improve the quality of life for geriatric dogs and cats Discusses state of the art medical and surgical therapy Covers nutritional management that is crucial to aging dogs and cats Reviews the most cost effective techniques in treating aging pets Reviews common disorders including the cause incidence clinical features diagnosis and management of each illness A chapter on client services includes a discussion of pet death and grief reaction Explores the special human animal bond that develops as the dog and cat population ages Information has been revised and updated for accuracy New chapter on ophthalmological considerations for the geriatric dog and cat

Animal Consciousness Daisie Radner, Michael Radner, 1996 Any intelligent debate on the ethical treatment of animals hinges on understanding their mental processes The idea that consciousness in animals is beyond comprehension is usually traced to the 17th century philosopher Ren Descartes whose concept of animals as beast machines lacking consciousness influenced arguments for more than 200 years But in reviewing Descartes theory of mind Daisie and Michael Radner demonstrate in Animal Consciousness that he did not hold the view so frequently attributed to him In fact they contend that Descartes distinguished two types of consciousness which make it easier to discuss the conscious experiences of animals and to trace the debate into the post Darwinian era

The Mark of the Beast Mark S. Roberts, 2008 The Mark of the Beast historically and critically examines the dire effects of the process of animalization on both humans and animals Roberts provides a general account of the theoretical division between humans and animals begun largely in the work of Aristotle and continued in that of Descartes and Kant Following the philosophical provenance of the idea of animality Roberts explores the practical and scientific uses of this idea focusing largely on what Stephen J Gould terms the bieterministic tradition by evaluating the primarily nineteenth century theories of atavism craniology recapitulation and so on while also exploring the use of medical and psychological techniques of animalization
