Some Look Better Dead:

The Death and Life of Great American Cities Jane Jacobs,2016-11-17 In this classic text Jane Jacobs set out to produce an attack on current city planning and rebuilding and to introduce new principles by which these should be governed The result is one of the most stimulating books on cities ever written Throughout the post war period planners temperamentally unsympathetic to cities have been let loose on our urban environment Inspired by the ideals of the Garden City or Le Corbusier's Radiant City they have dreamt up ambitious projects based on self contained neighbourhoods super blocks rigid scientific plans and endless acres of grass Yet they seldom stop to look at what actually works on the ground The real vitality of cities argues Jacobs lies in their diversity architectural variety teeming street life and human scale It is only when we appreciate such fundamental realities that we can hope to create cities that are safe interesting and economically viable as well as places that people want to live in Perhaps the most influential single work in the history of town planning Jacobs has a powerful sense of narrative a lively wit a talent for surprise and the ability to touch the emotions as well as the mind New York Times Book Review On a Dark Wing Jordan Dane,2011-12-20 After surviving a car accident Abbey Chandler discovers that the boy she secretly loves is the target of Death as he attempts to climb Denali

House of Commons,1850 and 2 Thomas Wemyss Reid,1890 Plan for Trees David Brouwer,2016-04-06 The benefits of trees and shrubs on farm production are beginning to be recognised by most landholders This book details the methods you can use to re establish trees and shrubs on your farm especially those that may have been there originally There are a series of important steps to success which will result in native plants coming back into your farm landscape This book doesn't attempt to explain the benefits and techniques of farm forestry. Many of the principles overlap but there are other considerations of marketing species and site selection which will be specific to commercial production. Once you have mastered many of the steps of revegetation you might consider a farm forestry venture and references are available for this. This book covers the main competency AHCNAR402A Plan the implementation of revegetation works of the National Training Package. The following learning outcomes are included: define the role of revegetation in agricultural systems; assess the value and role of existing remnant vegetation on a particular land area; plan revegetation strategies for a particular land area; identify the requirements for revegetating parts of a given land area; outline short term and long term management strategies for revegetating a particular area. *Bulletin United States.
