The Bachelor and the Married Man, Or The Equilibrium of the "Balance of Comfort." Mrs. Ross, 1817      The monk and the married man Julia Rattray Waddington, 1840      The Essential Guide for the Married Man E Paul Allerton, 2020-12-02 Marriage and becoming a father are two of the most important Rites of Passage in a man's life. Unfortunately, our society no longer recognizes them as such nor do the elder men prepare counsel and train the younger men to succeed in these endeavors. As a result, good men and women enter marriage with false expectations and misconceptions about how to create a successful marriage and a meaningful life. There is hope. If you are struggling, losing faith in your marriage, don't quit. You can learn and master the principles to be successful, end the conflict, save your marriage, and restore your family. If you are not married, you can prepare yourself to enjoy the best that a lifelong marriage can bring. You can lead your family to thrive, providing your children a secure and loving home. At the end of the day, it all comes down to your ability to lead yourself and then your ability to lead your family based on your actions. The direction of your leadership comes from the foundation of your life, your purpose. Your purpose will determine the qualities of character that you must develop. You must consciously choose and master the attitude necessary to sustain the self-discipline to navigate the storms of life so that you can serve your purpose. If you remain focused on these four attributes of your life and firmly rooted in your values, you will create an amazing legacy for yourself, your wife, your children, and your community. Truly practical guidance for real success.

The Single Woman-Married Man Syndrome Richard Tuch, 2002-09-01 Many single woman married man relationships are characterized by such recognizable, even stereotypic interactions and run such a predictable course as to constitute a genuine syndrome. Documenting the existence of this syndrome with case histories from inside and outside clinical practice, Dr. Tuch gives serious consideration to the complex dynamics involved and offers a framework to help patients struggling with their involvement in such affairs. A broader discussion of relations between men and women evolves and addresses such issues as men's dread of women, women's unique inclinations to employ masochistic adaptations in their relations with men, married couples' varied styles of dealing with their differences, the relationship of power and control to the processes of domination, submission, and the act of surrendering, and the development of the capacity to fall and remain in love.
