devastating storms and floods are intimately bound up within the history and mythology of the Mediterranean world This is a key region for the study of natural hazards because it offers unrivalled access to long records of hazard occurrence and impact through documentary archaeological and geological archives The Mediterranean is also a biodiversity hotspot it has been a meeting place for plants animals and humans from three continents throughout much of its history The Quaternary records of these interactions are more varied and better preserved than in any other part of the world These records have provided important new insights into the tempo of climate landscape and ecosystem change in the Mediterranean region and beyond The region is unique because of the very early and widespread impact of humans in landscape and ecosystem change and the richness of the archaeological and geological archives that chronicle this impact This book examines this history and these interactions and places current environmental issues in long term context Contributors Ramadan Husain Abu Zied Harriet Allen Jacques Blondel Maria Carmen Llasat James Casford Marc Castellnou Andrew Goudie Andrew Harding Angela Hayes Tom Holt Babette Hoogakker Philip Hughes Jos Lelieveld John Lewin Francisco Lloret Francisco Lopez Bermudez Mark Macklin Jean Margat Anne Mather Fr d ric M dail Christophe Morhange Clive Oppenheimer Jean Palutikof Gerassimos Papadopoulos Josep Pi ol David Pyle Jane Reed Neil Roberts Eelco Rohling Iain Stewart Stathis Stiros John Thornes Chronis Tzedakis John Wainwright

The Climate of the Mediterranean Region P. Lionello,2012-04-19 The Mediterranean region contains a diverse and interesting climate ranging from areas with permanent glaciers to areas of subtropical semiarid regions The region is potentially sensitive to climate change and its progress has environmental social and economic implications within and beyond the region Produced by the Mediterranean Climate Variability and Predictability Research Networking Project this book reviews the evolution of the Mediterranean climate over the past two millennia with projections further into the twenty first century as well as examining in detail various aspects of the Mediterranean region s climate including evolution atmospheric variables and oceanic and land elements Integrated with this the book also considers the social and economic problems or vulnerabilities associated with the region Written and reviewed by multiple researchers to ensure a high level of information presented clearly Mediterranean Climate Variables will be an invaluable source of information for geologists oceanographers and anyone interested in learning more about the Mediterranean climate Written by leading experts in the field Presents clear compelling and concise evidence Includes the latest thinking in Mediterranean climate research

The Mediterranean Region Jacques Blondel,James Aronson,Jean-Yves Bodiou,Gilles Boeuf,2010-01-28 It is becoming clear that the Mediterranean region is one of the hottest of the biodiversity hotspots on the planet There is also an increasing concern for the conservation adaptive management and restoration of the unique natural ecosystems and cultural landscapes that characterize this area The region s biological and cultural heritage as well as its huge wealth of biodiversity is now at real risk This brings a further urgency to the task of communicating detailed but readily accessible information on the Mediterranean biota and an ecological historical and evolutionary perspective to the changing contexts in which the region's flora and fauna continue to evolve There is no other recent textbook devoted solely to Mediterranean evolutionary ecology and a synthesis of the many recent advances is now overdue This new work builds on the success and reputation of the first edition although the text has been updated and expanded to document recent changes to biodiversity new ecological and evolutionary insights and the challenges for the future These changes include the addition of two new chapters devoted to the Mediterranean Sea itself and especially the coastal areas Throughout the book the pressing issues of global change especially climate warming are addressed in conjunction with changing land use and in terms of their potential impact on biota communities ecosystems and landscapes

The Mediterranean Sea Gianluca Eusebi Borzelli, Miroslav Gacic, Piero Lionello, Paola Malanotte-Rizzoli, 2014-03-10 Surface intermediate and deep water processes and their interaction in time and space drive the major ocean circulation of the Mediterranean Sea All major forcing mechanisms such as surface wind forcing buoyancy fluxes lateral mass exchange and deep convection determining the global oceanic circulation are present in this body of water Deep and intermediate water masses are formed in different areas of the ocean layers and they drive the Mediterranean thermohaline cell which further shows important analogies with the global ocean conveyor belt The Mediterranean Sea Temporal Variability and Spatial Patterns is a comprehensive volume that investigates the temporal and spatial variability patterns in the ocean basin Volume highlights include Discussions of state of the art physical and biogeochemical properties of the Mediterranean Sea Multiple physical ocean circulation processes both in time and spatial scales basin sub basin and mesoscale How different regional phenomena in the sea influence the biogeochemistry of the basin and the ocean dynamics Spatio temporal variability of the surface circulation in the western Mediterranean Deep water variability and inter basin interactions in the eastern Mediterranean Sea Understanding the link between global ocean circulation patterns and the global climate The Mediterranean Sea will be a valuable resource for geoscientists oceanographers and meteorologists

Environmental Condition of the Mediterranean Sea F. B. de Walle, M. Nikolopoulou-Tamvakli, W. J. Heinen, 1993-08-31 The Environmental Program for the Mediterranean EPM assesses the nature and the extent of the environmental problems in the Mediterranean Basin It leads to recommendations for short to medium term actions Policies institutional measures technical assistance and investment project proposals are necessary to ameliorate such problems The EPM emphasizes the economic and financial implications of environmental protection It suggests ways in which the countries of the region can achieve the high priority environmental investments that are recommended The case is made for greater efforts from the international aid community to assist the Mediterranean countries in this endeavor The EPM is a common initiative launched in 1988 by the European Investment Bank and by the World Bank The World Bank has economic development as its main objective The Bank has lent for development projects since 1946 primarily in the developing countries of the Third World The EIB's main task under Article 130 of the Treaty of Rome is to contribute to the balanced development of the European Community another of its priorities is the protection of the environment The Netherlands Organization for Applied Scientific Research TNO derives its legal status from an Act of Parliament of 1930 on applied scientific research in the Netherlands It is a fully independent R D organization and currently has a staff of about 5 100 and a turnover of more than 370 million U S dollars a year Studies by TNO are carried out in a number of institutes and laboratories located throughout the Netherlands TNO's primary task is to support technological innovation in trade and industry government agencies and community groups TNO also assists clients and sponsors in solving problems It conducts consultancy and transfers knowledge and know how to individual companies and sector groups Know how is obtained from TNO's own research or is generated through collaboration with universities and third parties The present study is sponsored by the European Investment Bank in the framework of the EPM The TNO report gives an overview of the environmental condition of the Mediterranean especially that of EC Mediterranean countries It also estimates the environmental investment requirements for sewage treatment plants river basin management port reception facilities other environmental protection measures

A Military History of the Mediterranean Sea, 2018-05-07 The Mediterranean has always attracted the imagination of modern historians as the epicentre of great political entities such as the Egyptians Greeks Romans Arabs Ottomans Venetians and Spanish However it seems that the sea itself was always on the margins of historical inquiry at least until the publication of the famous two volume work by F Braudel in 1949 This collection of essays aims to offer a vertical history of war in the Mediterranean Sea from the early Middle Ages to the early modernity putting the emphasis on the changing face of several different aspects and contexts of war over time Contributors are Stephen Bennett Stathis Birtachas Cornel Bontea Wayne H Bowen Lilia Campana Raffaele D Amato Elina Gugliuzzo Nikolaos Kanellopoulos Savvas Kyriakides Tilemachos Lounghis Alan V Murray Chrysovalantis Papadamou Jacopo Pessina Philip Rance Georgios Theotokis Iason Tzouriadis Ian Wilson and Aysel Yildiz

The Mediterranean Sea in the Era of Global Change 1 Christophe Migon, Paul Nival, Antoine Sciandra, 2020-04-28 Due to its particular characteristics the Mediterranean Sea is often viewed as a microcosm of the World Ocean Its proportionally reduced dimensions and peculiar hydrological circulation render it susceptible to environmental and climatic constraints which are rapidly evolving The Mediterranean is therefore an ideal site to examine in order to better understand a number of key oceanographic phenomena This is especially true of the Ligurian Sea where due to its geology oceanic conditions are found close to the coast As such 30 years ago an offshore time series site provided a fresh impetus to a long history of marine biology research which has generated a very important body of data and knowledge This is the first volume in a two volume series that summarizes this research Across these two books the reader will find 13 chapters that examine the geology physics chemistry and biology of the Ligurian Sea always with the goal of providing key elements of oceanography in a changing world

Past Climate Variability through Europe and Africa

Richard W. Battarbee, Françoise Gasse, Catherine E. Stickley, 2007-11-06 This book provides a major synthesis of evidence for past climate variability at the regional and continental scale across Europe and Africa It focuses on two complementary time scales the Holocene approximately the last 11 500 years and the last glacial interglacial cycle approximately the last 130 000 years An overview of the climate system of the past has never been attempted before on this scale and as such the volume represents a benchmark for future research It is written by an expert group of climate change scientists and presents an insight into past climate variability that challenges climatologists who seek to explain climate dynamics of the past and provides climate modellers with a work of reference for data model comparison The book is an advanced but very readable text essential for all students and scientists interested in global environmental change
