Gutenberg, Man of the Millennium Wolfgang Dobras, 2000 Shotoku Michael Como, 2008-04-18 Prince Shotoku 573 622 the purported founder of Japanese Buddhism is widely referred to as Japan's first national hero The cult that grew up around his memory is recognized as one of the most important phenomena in early Japanese religion This book examines the creation and evolution of the Shotoku cult over the roughly 200 years following his death a period that saw a series of revolutionary developments in the history of Japanese religion Michael Como highlights the activities of a cluster of kinship groups who claimed descent from ancestors from the Korean kingdom of Silla He skillfully places these groups in their socio cultural context and convincingly demonstrates their pivotal role in bringing continental influences to almost every aspect of government and community ideology in Japan He argues that these immigrant kinship groups were not only responsible for the construction of the Shotoku cult but were also associated with the introduction of the continental systems of writing ritual and governance By comparing the ancestral legends of these groups to the Shotoku legend corpus and Imperial chronicles Como shows that these kinship groups not only played a major role in the formation of the Japanese Buddhist tradition they also to a large degree shaped the paradigms in terms of which the Japanese Imperial cult and the nation of Japan were conceptualized and created Offering a radically new picture of the Asuko and Nara period 551-794 this innovative work will stimulate new approaches to the study of early Japanese religion focusing on the complex interactions among ideas of ethnicity lineage textuality and ritual

Textile Production and Consumption in the Ancient Near East Marie-Louise Nosch, Henriette Koefoed, Eva Andersson Strand, 2013-01-11 In the past textile production was a key part of all ancient societies The Ancient Near East stands out in this respect with the overwhelming amount of documentation both in terms of raw materials line of production and the distribution of finished products The thirteen intriguing chapters in Textile Production and Consumption in the Ancient Near East describe the developments and changes from household to standardised industrialised and centralised productions which take place in the region They discuss the economic social and cultural impact of textiles on ancient society through the application of textile tool studies experimental testing context studies and epigraphical as well as iconographical sources Together they demonstrate that the textile industries production technology consumption and innovations are crucial to and therefore provide an in depth view of ancient societies during this period Geographically the contributions cover Anatolia the Levant Syria the Assyrian heartland Sumer and Egypt
