The Oldest Orphan:

The Oldest Orphan Tierno Monänembo, 2004-01-01 Tierno Mon nembo was among the African authors invited to Rwanda after the 1994 Tutsi Hutu massacre to write genocide into memory In his novel The Oldest Orphan that is precisely what Mon nembo does to devastating effect Powerful testimony to an unspeakable historical reality this story is told by an adolescent on death row in a prison in Kigali the capital of Rwanda Dispassionately almost cynically the teenager Faustin tells his tale alternating between his days in jail his adventures wandering the countryside after his parents and most of the people of his village have been massacred and his escapades as a cheerful hoodlum in the streets of Kigali Only slowly does the full horror of his parents death and his own experience return to Faustin His realization strikes the reader with shattering force for it carries in its wake the impossible but inescapable questions presented by such a murderous episode of history and such a crippling experience for a child a people and a nation

Evil in Contemporary French and Francophone Literature Scott M. Powers, 2010-10-12 Evil remains a primary source of inquiry in contemporary literature of French expression even among its most secular writers In considering French speaking authors from France Belgium the United States the Maghreb and Sub Saharan Africa this collection delineates a rich international perspective on some of the most disturbing events of our time Each essay testifies to the urgency expressed in works of fiction to give an account of human catastrophes from the Shoah and the Rwandan genocide to the terrorist attacks of September 11 and the ongoing oppression of women in Islamic nations Themes underlying this volume include an investigation into the origins of evil its representations in writing and the ethical responsibilities of authors who write on human suffering Contemporary fiction on evil confronts us with fundamental questions Can evil be attributed to intentionality is evil subconscious or is it the result of impersonal forces Which styles of writing are ethically appropriate or effective for depicting evil Can we speak of a veritable poetics of evil shared by contemporary authors When does a literary text on evil become evil In providing informed and nuanced answers to these important questions the scholars engage in crucial theories of psychoanalysis post structuralism and post modernism address a number of issues raised by trauma and genocide studies and draw from critical frameworks in literary theory on testimony the limits of representing the extreme and transgressive writing

Sentient Pasts, Trauma, and Counter-Narrative

Abhishek Trehan, 2025-10-02 Drawing upon the theories of memory studies this book challenges the historical authenticity of colonialism in the works of douard Glissant Caryl Phillips and Tierno Mon nembo as they seek to place their fiction in the aftermath of reparative histories Trehan examines not only the histories of displacement diasporic traditions genocidal trauma or continuation of colonialist affiliations in postcolonial societies but the creative resistance to hegemony Focusing on the embedded historical memory the author examines the implications of remembrance including selective remembering and forgetting in the process of decolonization bringing forth the struggle of representation and recognition This book probes the transmission of traumatic memory across generations by amplifying the nexus between history and memory reading beyond nation based interpretations By comparing the continuity of colonial legacy in the works of Glissant Phillips and Mon nébo Trehan examines a model of postcolonial inheritance to understand how ordinary people relate to the question of political expression by focusing on the colonial history memory and trauma The New William Faulkner Studies Sarah Gleeson-White, Pardis Dabashi, 2022-07-07 This volume situates Faulkner within a range of current and emerging critical fields such as African American studies visual culture studies world literatures modernist studies gender studies and the energy humanities The essays are written with the Faulkner expert and general reader in mind and covers the full range of Faulkner's opus The Life of the Most Rev.
