The Paradigm Trilogy:

The Paradigm Trilogy Gerry Burney, 1997-01-01 The Mastery Series Thomas Prendergast, 1879 The Changing Vampire of Film and Television Tim Kane, 2015-01-09 Vampires have been a fixture of film since Bela Lugosi brought Bram Stoker's Dracula to life on the big screen in 1931. Over the decades the genre has been far from static as vampire narratives changed and evolved with the appetites of their viewing public. First depicted as formally dressed villains, vampires would later be portrayed as supernatural beings with some human characteristics and still later as sympathetic figures. Focusing on 19 representative films and television productions, this critical study tracks the evolutionary changes of the screen vampire. It explores the factors that cause a genre to change and examines the alternating cycles of audience expectation. The author identifies three distinct modes of depiction: the Malignant Cycle (1931-1948) comprised primarily of the Universal films; the Erotic Cycle (1957-1985) which encompasses Hammer films and popular television shows such as Dark Shadows and the Sympathetic Cycle (1987-present) including recent offerings such as The Lost Boys, Interview with the Vampire, and Buffy the Vampire Slayer. Each film is evaluated in seven key areas including the act of the vampire biting the victim, process of the victim's infection, physical appearance and demeanor of the vampire, and the vampire expert and the eventual destruction of the vampire. Appendices include a complete filmography of the films examined. Instructors considering this book for use in a course may request an examination copy here. Science, Origins, & Ancient Civilizations , Russian War Films Denise Jeanne Youngblood, 2007 A panoramic survey of nearly a century of Russian films on wars and wartime from World War I to more recent conflicts in Afghanistan and Chechnya with heavy emphasis on films pertaining to World War II.

Imaginary Spaces of Power in Sub-Saharan Literatures and Films Alix Mazuet, 2012-04-25 This collection of essays is unlike others in the field of African studies for it is based on three very precisely delineated focal points: a particular geographical region, the sub-Saharan; specific modes of cultural production, literature and cinema; and a focus on works of French expression. This three-fold approach to exploring the relationships between power and culture in a non-Western environment greatly contributes to making this book unique from a variety of perspectives: African, Francophone, and postcolonial studies, as well as cross-disciplinary, cultural, transnational, and diasporic studies. Moreover, the book offers deft and innovative analyses that move beyond the rhetoric of crises on the African continent we so very often hear of, so as to present a critical reflection on the subject at hand that is specific to the sub-Saharan and at the same time intimately linked to global culture, economy, and politics. The authors' three-fold approach also presupposes that disciplinary compartmentalization increases power conflicts in academia. If only in part, compartmentalization is the result of antagonistic and competitive relations between specialization and multidisciplinary education. This book is thus a modest attempt at presenting an alternative to excessively fixed and homogeneous academic frontiers while considering that disciplinary expertise remains a must. Keeping in mind that an increasing number of scholars in Anglophone Postcolonial studies and Francophone African studies have been attempting for quite some time now to open interstices and build crossroads that can better connect them to each other keeping in mind that these scholars work at revealing mechanisms by which any antagonistic discourses can mix influence act upon or react to one another this book seeks to take a constructive step in establishing enduring grounds for multidisciplinary cross disciplinary and transnational academic research and collaboration The Films of Lars von Trier and Philosophy José A. Haro, William H. Koch, 2019-08-31 The films of Lars von Trier offer unique opportunities for thinking deeply about how Philosophy and Cinema speak to one another The book addresses von Trier's films in order of their release The earlier chapters discuss his Golden Heart trilogy and USA Land of Opportunities series by addressing issues of potential misogyny ethical critique and racial justice The later chapters focus on his Depression Trilogy and address the undermining of gender binaries the psychoanalytic meaning of the sacrifice of children and depression and philosophical questions provoked by the depiction of the end of the world Taken together the volume explores the topics of Philosophical Psychology Social Theory Political Theory Theories of the Self Philosophy of Race and Feminist Thought and opens a conversation about von Trier's important work Spiritual Serendipity Richard M. Eyre, 1997 A guide to opening the mind lifting the spirit and accessing divine guidance Spiritual Serendipity is by the coauthor of the 1 national bestseller Teaching Your Children Values Richard Eyre shows how to develop a serendipity of the spirit in this delightful poetic spiritual self help title
