The Pasteurization Of France:

The Pasteurization of France Bruno Latour, 1993-10-15 Describes Pasteur's roles in improving health practices in France and identifies the other forces that helped implement his ideas about health care Critical Texts, 1990 Nature, the Exotic, and the Science of French Colonialism Michael A. Osborne, 1994 The colonization of Algeria in the nineteenth century was premised on the belief that Europeans as well as non indigenous animals and plants could acclimatize to life in North Africa While traditional French science showed little interest in such practical matters as attempting to adapt exotic plants and animals to new environments support came from the Societe zoologique d acclimatation the French Sierra Club whose story is the subject of this book Because its work was politically useful in support of France's colonial ambitions in Algeria and elsewhere the Society found favor with Napoleon III's government and its influence was soon widespread For example the Society fostered the creation of nature preserves in Africa and zoos in Paris and its ideas changed the research agendas of pure science as well In this major study of how the acquisition of empire affected French science Michael A Osborne treats in turn the founding of the Society and its evolution to 1920 its monument to Napoleon III's modern Paris the Jardin zoologique d acclimatation the Society's core scientific ideology of Lamarckian transformation the history of provincial acclimatization societies in Nancy and Grenoble and the Society's activities in the colonies of the new French empire An important study of the patronage and politics of science this book offers new insights for students of environmentalism science history and policy and modern European history The Discourse of Hygiene in French Fascist Literature Ian Hamilton Offord, 2007 Yale French Studies, 1948 Annual Report Connecticut. State Board of Agriculture, 1891

Women and Medicine in the French Enlightenment Lindsay Blake Wilson, 1993 In Women and Medicine in the French Enlightenment Lindsay Wilson takes a new approach to the social history of medicine by focusing on the key role that women played as both providers and recipients of health care during the Ancien Regime Wilson pays special attention to three medical controversies involving maladies des femmes in eighteenth century France the miraculous cures claimed by the Convulsionaries of St Medard the uncertainty over the maximum length of pregnancy and its implications for the legitimacy of heirs and the debate over the medical effectiveness of mesmerism Wilson's analysis of these debates reveals how social and political concerns affected the medical community's efforts to establish an enlightened science of medicine which would in turn legitimize its own authority But because the issues of legitimacy hierarchy and authority raised by the medical causes celebres resonated so deeply throughout French society debate extended far beyond medical circles to an increasingly engaged public Such debate reflected a significant shift in the center of politics from the institutions of court academy and parlement to journals theaters and the streets Wilson's description of these debates provides insight into the forces that were transforming the family the church corporate society and the state on the eve of the Revolution She argues for a re assessment of a period that has been all too easily categorized as an age of triumph either for enlightenment or for repression Her work also offers concrete examples of the ways in which sexual symbolism can be employed to maintain social order or promote change Based on medical treatises medical topographies official reports judicial documents physicians correspondence and memoirs of eighteenth century women Women and Medicine in the French Enlightenment is a thoroughly interdisciplinary work that will appeal to anyone with an interest in the social history of medicine women s studies Enlightenment thought and French social history BOOK JACKET Title Summary field provided by Blackwell North America Inc All Rights Reserved France Frances Chambers,1990 Society in the Making Feng-Huang Wu,1995
