The Patton Papers 1940 1945:

The Patton Papers George Smith Patton, Martin Blumenson, 1996-08-22 One of World War II's most brilliant and controversial generals George S Patton 1885 1945 fought in North Africa and Sicily as commander of the Third Army spearheaded the Allies spectacular 1944 1945 sweep through France Belgium and Germany Martin Blumenson is the only historian to enjoy unlimited access to the vast Patton papers his many books include Masters of the Art of Command available from Da Capo Press and Patton The Man Behind the Legend The Patton Papers, 1972 Patton Papers, 1940 to 1945 George Smith Patton, Martin Blumenson, 1974-01-01 The Patton Papers Martin Blumenson, 1972 The Patton Papers 1940-1945, Vol II., 1974 The Patton Papers: 1885-1940 Martin Blumenson, George Smith Patton, 1972 1 1885 1940 2 1940 1945 Imponderable but Not Inevitable Malcolm H. Murfett, 2009-11-12 This book fills an important gap in the literature of modern warfare by focusing on random elements in warfare often overlooked in both the planning and execution of military operations factors that can turn certain success into devastating failure By definition the unforeseeable cannot be seen but one way to bring more variables under consideration when planning a military action is to review those instances where the unforeseeable changed everything For professionals and enthusiasts alike Imponderable But Not Inevitable Warfare in the 20th Century does just that reviewing specific instances in 20th century warfare when things did not go according to plan Imponderable but Not Inevitable uses case studies to expose the Inevitability Syndrome exploring the role of luck fate and randomness in influencing both victory and defeat In essays drawn from World War II Konfrontasi the Vietnam War and the Gulf War a distinguished set of military experts looks at real scenarios of inexplicable losses illustrating why nothing nothing should be taken for granted in war Bloodlines Anthony M. Platt, Cecilia Elizabeth O'Leary, 2015-12-03 At the end of World War II an American military intelligence team retrieved an original copy of the 1935 Nuremberg Laws signed by Hitler and turned over this rare document to General George S Patton In 1999 after fifty five years in the vault of the Huntington Library in southern California the Nuremberg Laws resurfaced and were put on public display for the first time at the Skirball Cultural Center in Los Angeles In this far ranging interdisciplinary study that is part historical analysis part cultural critique part detective story and part memoir Tony Platt explores a range of interrelated issues war time looting remembrance of the holocaust German and American eugenics and the public responsibilities of museums and cultural centers This book is based on original research by the author and co researcher historian Cecilia O Leary in government military and library archives interviews and oral histories and participant observation It is both a detailed scholarly analysis and a record of the author's activist efforts to correct the historical record America's First Battles, 1776-1965 Charles E. Heller, William A. Stofft, 1986 This volume a collection of eleven original essays by many of the foremost U S military historians focuses on the transition of the Army from parade ground to battleground in each of nine wars the United States has fought Through careful analysis of organization training and tactical doctrine each essay seeks to explain the strengths and weaknesses evidenced by the outcome of the first significant engagement or campaign of the war. The concluding essay sets out to synthesize the findings and to discover whether or not American first battles manifest a characteristic rhythm. America's First Battles provides a novel and intellectually challenging view of how America has prepared for war and how operations and tactics have changed over time. The thrust of the book, the emphasis on operational history, is at the forefront of scholarly activity in military history. This book is part of the Modern War Studies series. Corps Commanders of the Bulge Harold R. Winton, 2007. Study of the Battle of the Bulge: The Patton Papers ; maps by Samuel H. Bryant Martin Blumenson, 1974. Combined Arms Warfare in the Twentieth Century Jonathan Mallory House, 2001. For centuries the world has witnessed the development and use of increasingly complex and powerful military systems and technologies. In the process the art of war has truly become the art of combined arms warfare in which infantry, artillery, air support, intelligence, and other key elements are all coordinated for maximum effect. Nowhere has this trend been more visible than in the history of twentieth century warfare. Originally published as an essential in-house study for U.S. Army officers during the 1980s, this much revised and expanded edition remains the most complete study available on the subject. Rewritten with a much wider readership in mind, it both retains its enormous practical utility for military professionals and provides a valuable and appealing introduction for scholars and general readers. Jonathan House, author of the original work, brings the story of combined arms up to the present, covering among other things Desert Storm, the war in Chechnya, and the rise of smart weapons and related technologies. He traces the evolution of tactics, weapons, and organization in five major militaries: American, British, German, Russian, and French, over 100 years of warfare. Revealing both continuities and contrasts within and between these fighting forces, he also provides illuminating glimpses of Israeli and Japanese contributions to combined arms doctrine. Expanding his insightful analysis of the world wars and the wars in Korea and Vietnam, House also offers much new material focused on the post-Vietnam period. Throughout, he analyzes such issues as command and control problems of highly centralized organizations, the development of special operations forces, advances in weapons technology, including ballistic and anti-ballistic missile systems, the trade-offs involved in using heavy versus light armed forces, and the enduring obstacles to effective cooperation between air and land forces. His strong critique of the air superiority propaganda that came out of the Gulf War is sure to spark some heated debates. Rigorously comparative, House's study addresses significant questions about how nations prepare for war, learn or don't learn its harsh lessons, and adapt to changing times and technologies. Unique in the annals of the literature on warfare, it will be the standard work on this subject for a long time to come. Studies in Popular Culture, 1982. The Fighting Pattons Brian Sobel, 1997-02-25. Many German officers would later say Patton was the most important weapon in the American arsenal. A complex man driven by his knowledge of history and warfare, the elder Patton was compassionate and easily moved to tears. He was a professional soldier who loved the art of war and hated war itself. The younger Patton has also lived a most exciting life, having been acquainted with many of the famous names in political and military history Together father and son logged Victory in Europe, 1945 Arnold A. Offner, Theodore A. Wilson, 2000 In this collection senior scholars explore the transition from war to uneasy peace how and why the war ended as it did whether a different resolution was possible and if the ensuing Cold War was inevitable

Warmaking and American Democracy Michael David Pearlman, 1999 While war is most effectively waged as a united effort the United States has consistently waged military conflict without firm central direction Throughout our history observes Michael Pearlman the waging of war has been subject to continuous bargaining and compromise among competing governments and military factions What passes for strategy emerged from this process Patton's Ghost Corps Nathan Prefer, 1998 An account of Maj Gen Walton Walker's XX Corps left behind to defend the entire Third Army frontline when Gen Patton advanced north across the Rhine River into Germany toward the end of 1944 The XX Corps primary combat force was the 94th Infantry Division a draftee unit new to the area They proved their mettle in a series of bloody and hazardous small unit actions Includes bandw photos Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR The Hawaiian Journal of History Hawaiian Historical Society, 2005 A Country Made by War Geoffrey Perret, 1989 From the Revolution to Vietnam the story of America's rise to power Military History, 1996-04
