Verhagen, 2023-06-13 How have artists responded to our market driven tech enabled culture of speed Viewing Velocities explores a contemporary art scene caught in the gears of 24/7 capitalism It looks at artists who embrace the high octane experience economy and others who are closer to the slow movement Some of the most compelling artworks addressing the cadences of contemporary work and leisure play on distinct even contradictory conceptions of time From Danh Vo's relics to Moyra Davey's photographs of dust covered belongings from Roman Ondak's queuing performers and Susan Hiller's outdoor sleepers to Maria Eichhorn's art strike and Ruth Ewan's giant reconstruction of the French revolutionary calendar artists have drawn out aspects of the present temporal order that are familiar to the point of near invisibility while outlining other more liberating ways of conceiving organising and experiencing time Marcus Verhagen builds on the work of theorists Jonathan Crary Hartmut Rosa and Jacques Rancière to trace lines of insurgent art that recast struggles over time and history in novel and revealing terms The Magazine of Art Marion Harry Spielmann, 1899 Dictionary of Painters and Engravers Michael Bryan, 1886 The Lady's Gazette of Fashion, Wilson's Photographics Edward Livingston Wilson, 1881

The Oxford Companion to Food Alan Davidson, 2006-09-21 The Oxford Companion to Food by Alan Davidson first published in 1999 became almost overnight an immense success winning prizes and accolades around the world Its combination of serious food history culinary expertise and entertaining serendipity with each page offering an infinity of perspectives was recognized as unique The study of food and food history is a new discipline but one that has developed exponentially in the last twenty years There are now university departments international societies learned journals and a wide ranging literature exploring the meaning of food in the daily lives of people around the world and seeking to introduce food and the process of nourishment into our understanding of almost every compartment of human life whether politics high culture street life agriculture or life and death issues such as conflict and war The great quality of this Companion is the way it includes both an exhaustive catalogue of the foods that nourish humankind whether they be fruit from tropical forests mosses scraped from adamantine granite in Siberian wastes or body parts such as eyeballs and testicles and a richly allusive commentary on the culture of food whether expressed in literature and cookery books or as dishes peculiar to a country or community The new edition has not sought to dim the brilliance of Davidson's prose Rather it has updated to keep ahead of a fast moving area and has taken the opportunity to alert readers to new avenues in food studies
