Prophets and Protos Benjamin E Zeller,2010-03-01 This in depth study shows how new religious movements offer a variety of strategies for reconciling science and religious faith By the twentieth century established religious traditions were forced to grappled with the challenges presented by scientific knowledge and innovation But emerging religions still led by a living founder to guide them found new ways to respond to science The Hare Krishnas the Unification Church and Heaven's Gate each found distinct ways to incorporate major findings of modern American science understanding it as central to their wider theological and social agendas In Prophets and Photons Benjamin Zeller examines how these New Religious Movements NRMs crafted their views on science during their founding period and how those views evolved over time These NRMs shed light on how religious groups new old alternative or mainstream could respond to the tremendous growth of power and prestige of science in late twentieth century America In this engrossing book Zeller carefully shows that religious groups had several methods of creatively responding to science and that the often assumed conflict based model of science vs religion must be replaced by a more nuanced understanding of how religions operate in our modern scientific world
