Systems Science Addressing Global Issues:

Systems Science Frank A. Stowell, Daune West, James G. Howell, 2012-12-06 As we approach the end of the 20th century we can look back upon the achievements that have been made in a variety of human endeavours with pride Enormous strides have been made to improve the quality of life of millions of people through the application of the scientific discoveries made during this and past centuries The 20th century will be remembered as much for the mass exploitation of scientific discovery as for the discoveries themselves The technological age has meant that the human being is able to contemplate activities which defy nature For example some of the work involved in the preparation of these proceedings has been done whilst travelling at over 500 miles per hour seven miles above the surface of the earth It is not difficult to conjecture about the effect that this relatively recent technology has had upon a number of systems Air transportation has provided a number of benefits including such disparate examples such as enabling holidays famine relief and the cross fertilisation of cultural practices from other lands Equally there have been undesirable effects such as enabling the means of mass destruction interference in other cultures and the speedy transportation of disease Moreover the physical presence of the aeroplane itself represents the consumption of fossil fuels a source of pollution and a change in the way think about life The view expressed here is of course the view of an inhabitant of the western world

Critical Issues in Systems Theory and Practice

K. Ellis, Amanda J. Gregory, B.R. Mears-Young, Gillian Ragsdell, 2013-06-29 The systems movement now 40 years old is made up of many associations of systems thinkers from different disciplines all over the world The United Kingdom Systems Society UKSS was formed in 1978 Today it has over 300 members and is committed to the development and promotion of systems philosophy theory concepts and methodologies for improving decision making for the benefit of organizations and wider society The first UKSS International Conference was held at the University of Hull in July of Huddersfield 1989 Since then we have held International Conferences at the Universities 1991 and Paisley 1993 The UKSS International Conferences are now an established biannual event and this our fourth international conference will be jointly hosted by the Universities of Hull and Humberside Systems science is considered to be a trans discipline which promotes critical and effective intervention in complex organisational and social problem situations As such it traverses hard through soft to critical systems thinking and methodologies Yet despite the currently robust state of the UKSS the systems movement cannot be described as an international movement different subdisciplines are at different stages of development and are often engaged in pursuing their own particular interests and themes with little conversation between the subdisciplines despite their common interest in systems
