Hong Kong Connections Meaghan Morris, Siu Leung Li, Stephen Ching-ku Chan, 2005-10-01 Since the 1960s, Hong Kong cinema has helped to shape one of the world's most popular cultural genres: action cinema. Hong Kong action films have proved popular over the decades with audiences worldwide and they have seized the imaginations of filmmakers working in many different cultural traditions and styles. How do we account for this appeal, which changes as it crosses national borders? Hong Kong Connections brings leading film scholars together to explore the uptake of Hong Kong cinema in Japan, Korea, India, Australia, France, and the US, as well as its links with Taiwan, Singapore, and the Chinese mainland. In the process, this collective study examines diverse cultural contexts for action cinema's popularity and the problems involved in the transnational study of globally popular forms, suggesting that in order to grasp the history of Hong Kong action cinema's influence, we need to bring out the differences as well as the links that constitute popularity

A Sanskrit-English Dictionary Monier

Monier-Williams,1899 Martial Arts Cinema and Hong Kong Modernity Man-Fung Yip,2017-09-05

At the core of Martial Arts Cinema and Hong Kong Modernity Aesthetics Representation Circulation is a fascinating paradox the martial arts film long regarded as a vehicle of Chinese cultural nationalism can also be understood as a mass cultural expression of Hong Kong's modern urban industrial society. This important and popular genre Man Fung Yip argues articulates the experiential qualities the competing social subjectivities and gender discourses as well as the heightened circulation of capital people goods information and technologies in Hong Kong of the 1960s and 1970s. In addition to providing a novel conceptual framework for the study of Hong Kong martial arts cinema and shedding light on the nexus between social change and cultural aesthetic form this book offers perceptive analyses of individual films including not only the canonical works of King Hu Chang Cheh and Bruce Lee but also many lesser known ones by Lau Kar leung and Chor Yuen among others that have not been adequately discussed before. Thoroughly researched and lucidly written Yip's stimulating study will ignite debates in new directions for both scholars and fans of Chinese language martial arts cinema. Yip subjects critical clichés to rigorous examination moving beyond generalized notions of martial arts cinema's appeal and offering up informed scrutiny of every facet of the genre. He has the ability to encapsulate these films particularities with cogent examples and at the same time demonstrate a thorough familiarity with the historical context in which this endlessly fascinating genre arose. David Desser professor emeritus University of Illinois at Urbana Champaign. Eschewing a reductive chronology Yip offers a persuasive detailed and sophisticated excavation of martial arts cinema which is read through and in relation to rapid transformation of Hong Kong in the 1960s and 1970s. An exemplar of critical genre study this book represents a significant contribution to the discipline.
