La Stupenda, a Biography of Joan Sutherland Brian Adams, 1980 In the crowded history of opera few singers have had such a long and distinguished career as Joan Sutherland By 1960 Joan had virtually disappeared from her name a recognition that she had become a prima donna The beginning of the 1980s saw her singing as impressively as ever repeating roles she had made famous more than twenty years previously and embarking on new ventures at a time when most sopranos would be thinking about retirement The story of the Sydney secretary with a passion for singing who eventually became one of the greatest opera stars in the world could read as a catalogue of triumphs But Sutherland's success and her modest acceptance of it has been set against a background of ill health and personal challenge that makes her seemingly effortless art on stage and recordings seem all the more remarkable In this biography written with the complete cooperation of Dame Joan and her husband Richard Bonynghe the full extent of her life and career is encompassed for the first time There is also a reference section giving comprehensive details of first performances recordings and a bibliography The life of Dame Joan Sutherland is in fact largely the story of a notable partnership an interdependent association between herself and her mentor Richard Bonynghe which has led to combined careers of the highest order and to such Sutherland accolades as The Voice of the Century and La Stupenda Publisher Facets Video Encyclopedia Catherine Foley, Milos Stehlik, 1999 Calling it a virtual cinemath que on video the Telluride Film Festival gave its coveted Silver Medallion award to Facets Video Encyclopedia The Encyclopedia lists more than 35 000 rare films on video laser disc and DVD Included are foreign independent classic American silent documentary experimental cult and children's films Each is carefully described and lists director country of origin year and running time credits and is categorized and cross referenced by director and country All films are available for sale or rent from Facets Multimedia Film and Television Handbook, 1992 APAIS, Australian Public Affairs Information Service, 1992 Vol for 1963 includes section Current Australian serials a subject list The Continuum Dictionary of Women's Biography Jennifer S.
