Subject To Negotiation Reading Feminist:

Negotiating Intimacies Arna Seal,2000 For far too long the population problem in India has been seen from the point of view of the policy and statistics of population growth focusing on the control of fertility without reference to poor women and their needs In this book a hundred women from Calcutta's slums talk directly about their sexual and birth control experiences As the stories accumulate we get a picture of these women's lives that are frighteningly bare of choice The book asks how women's income earning capacities as well as those of their men and their status in their families affect their social and sexual autonomy How does religion influence their birth control choices Has the women's movement been able to address the concerns of poor illiterate or semi illiterate women

Negotiating the Postcolonial

Ann Elizabeth Willey,Jeanette Treiber,2002 This is a wide ranging discussion of the groundbreaking author whose first novel Nervous Conditions was awarded the Commonwealth Writers Prize and was the first novel to be published in English in Zimbabwe by a black woman

Negotiating Identities Aparna Rayaprol,1997 This book is about how immigrant communities conceptualize and indeed actualize the process of reconstruction in a foreign land Faced with a disjunctive crisis a community can find in religion a major symbolic resource that helps to make such rebuilding possible In this book the community in question is South Indian and the material representation of their coming together is the Sri Venkateswara temple in Pittsburgh Pennsylvania The author examines the dynamics of gender roles within this specific occurrence of India to America immigration emphasizing the ways in which both women and girls by way of cultural and religious activities related to the temple have created a niche for themselves with in the community
