C. Korting,2012-12-06 Over the last 35 years synthetic detergents have become increasingly important as skin cleansing agents With the vast range of soaps and synthetic cleansers available nowadays doctors and pharmacists are expected to advise on how to cleanse normal as well as diseased skins Sound advice must include knowledge of the nature composition and action of the available surfactants and cleanser preparations the physiology and pathophysiology of the skin surface the microbial ecology of the skin and the factors that control the skin flora Much of this knowledge is the result of recent research Health care professionals must be familiar not only with the benefits but also with the possible adverse effects of synthetic
