They offer real world tips and advice on looking for and landing a first job, doing well at work, and simply hanging in there. Their stories cover the gamut of work life, dealing with difficult bosses, weird coworkers, less than ideal environments, and tasks, and climbing up or slipping down the corporate ladder from those who have been there done that and lived to tell about it.

Netcentric System of Systems Engineering with DEVS Unified Process Saurabh Mittal, José L. Risco Martín, 2013-02-22 In areas such as military, security, aerospace, and disaster management, the need for performance optimization and interoperability among heterogeneous systems is increasingly important. Model driven engineering, a paradigm in which the model becomes the actual software, offers a promising approach toward systems of systems (SoS) engineering. However, model driven engineering has largely been unachieved in complex dynamical systems and netcentric SoS, partly because modeling and simulation M/S frameworks are stove-piped and not designed for SoS composability. Addressing this gap, Netcentric System of Systems Engineering with DEVS Unified Process presents a methodology for realizing the model driven engineering vision and netcentric SoS using DEVS Unified Process (DUNIP). The authors draw on their experience with Discrete Event Systems Specification (DEVS) formalism, System Entity Structure (SES) theory, and applying model driven engineering in the context of a netcentric SoS. They describe formal model driven engineering methods for netcentric M/S using standards based approaches to develop and test complex dynamic models with DUNIP. The book is organized into five sections. Section I introduces undergraduate students and novices to the world of DEVS. It covers systems and SoS M/S as well as DEVS formalism, software modeling language, and DUNIP. It also assesses DUNIP with the requirements of the Department of Defense's DoD

Open Unified Technical Framework OpenUTF for netcentric Test and Evaluation T E Section II delves into M S based systems engineering for graduate students advanced practitioners and industry professionals It provides methodologies to apply M S principles to SoS design and reviews the development of executable architectures based on a framework such as the Department of Defense Architecture Framework DoDAF It also describes an approach for building netcentric knowledge based contingency driven systems Section III guides graduate students advanced DEVS users and industry professionals who are interested in building DEVS virtual machines and netcentric SoS It discusses modeling standardization the deployment of models and simulators in a netcentric environment event driven architectures and more Section IV explores real world case studies that realize many of the concepts defined in the previous chapters Section V outlines the next steps and looks at how the modeling of netcentric complex adaptive systems can be attempted using DEVS concepts It touches on the boundaries of DEVS formalism and the future work needed to utilize advanced concepts like weak and strong emergence self organization scale free systems run time modularity and event interoperability This groundbreaking work details how DUNIP offers a well structured platform independent methodology for the modeling and simulation of netcentric system of systems Finding Your Job ,1963 Each volume describes 12 occupations and the advantages and disadvantages of each job as well as education required Five volumes are included in each level
