Language and the Declining World in Chaucer, Dante, and Jean de Meun John M. Fyler,2007-07-16 Medieval commentaries on the origin and history of language used biblical history from Creation to the Tower of Babel as their starting point and described the progressive impairment of an originally perfect language Biblical and classical sources raised questions for both medieval poets and commentators about the nature of language its participation in the Fall and its possible redemption John M Fyler focuses on how three major poets Chaucer Dante and Jean de Meun participated in these debates about language He offers fresh analyses of how the history of language is described and debated in the Divine Comedy the Canterbury Tales and the Roman de la Rose While Dante follows the Augustinian idea of the Fall and subsequent redemption of language Jean de Meun and Chaucer are skeptical about the possibilities for linguistic redemption and resign themselves at least half comically to the linguistic implications of the Fall and the declining world
